School Cafeteria Quizzers Target Questions At Manager and She Provides All the Answers

By BEN TEPLITZ
(Mercury Staff Writer)

A closed door scrutiny of cafeteria issues in the Upper Perkiomen ended Thursday at 2 a.m. Much of the meeting centered on questions shot at Mrs. Margaret Yoder, lunchroom manager.

The board asked Mrs. Yoder if she bought sheets for her home and charged the purchase to the school board; if she bought inferior foodstuffs and paid high prices for it; if she stole food; if she kept two sets of accounts; and if she miscounted the number of lunch sales.

Mrs. Yoder was quizzed by school board solicitor Raymond Pearlstine and by her own attorney, Frederick Smillie, former district attorney.

Pearlstine declared, "Nothing developed from our probe that was not known last Fall. Perhaps the only new aspect was that more people related the same things." There was no indictments in 1959.

HE CONTINUED, "We took several recorded tapes of all recent testimony, and will review the facts Monday in another closed door session."

Attorney Smillie declared, "I can discern only sheer rumor to all insinuations against Mrs. Yoder, and those tongue waggings go back to 1946."

The ex-district attorney continued, "We had facts or witnesses to refute every allegation against Mrs. Yoder. Mrs. Yoder produced her personal check stubs to show she bought sheets with her own funds."

The sheets also were purchased from Prison Industries, a private company, and not from a war surplus stock, as alleged.

ANSWERING rumors that Mrs. Yoder purchased low price food at high cost, Smillie produced letters from two wholesalers to refute such allegations.

One letter, from Arbogast and Bastian, Allentown, stated that all its meats were made under Federal inspection to insure nutrition and grade.

"We hold only to single grade and high quality products for Mrs. Yoder to choose from," stated the letter.

Another letter, from the Harold Stevens grocery company, Allentown, also stated that Mrs. Yoder could not have bought inferior foods from them, because they don't handle such merchandise.

Charges that Mrs. Yoder miscounted the number of 30-cent platters sold to children was acknowledged to be true, but doing so was said to be "not unusual."

FREDERICK SMILLIE

Smillie explained, "Leftover foods that could not be sold the following day was sold to cafeteria workers in the afternoon.

"Mrs. Yoder put those transactions on her records as platters sold. I realize that some school districts give away leftovers, but Mrs. Yoder charged employes for food and just listed the receipts as additional sales.

"The State auditor knew of the sales practice and never said it was wrong. Mrs. Yoder's employes also backed up her defense," explained Smillie.

"RUMORS that Mrs. Yoder stole food were based on countless items of hearsay and on two half truths," continued Smillie. The rumors ranged all the way to "a full truckload of canned goods being hauled away by Mrs. Yoder."

The facts were that cans and packages of cheese, both from the school cafeteria, were found in Mrs. Yoder's house.

Mrs. Yoder declared, and several employes added, that large but empty cans often were taken home.

"The number 10 sized cans were convenient for me to take home worthless scraps of foods for my three dogs. Additional scraps were taken home for a neighbor's pig, before the cafeteria had an incinerator to burn its refuse," related Mrs. Yoder.

The empty cans were found by detectives behind Mrs. Yoder's house. Cheese from the cafeteria also was found by Charles Moody, chief of county detectives on May 25.

"Moody had no search warrant, but Mrs. Yoder invited him to inspect her premises from attic to cellar. There even were rumors of a secret cellar in the house," said Smillie.

He continued, "Moody made a thorough search and found nothing, until he came across the empty cans and cheese.

"The cans were brought home empty and the cheese was in Mrs. Yoder's house for a specific reason.

"Much of the cheese stored in the school's locker has turned moldy.

For sometime, Mrs. Yoder had the policy of sorting edible from spoiled cheese and she did so during weekends in her house," said Smillie.

He continued, "When detective Moody found the school's cheese in the house he thought

EXCHANGE PLANS STUDY OF SEWERS

Pottstown-Pottsgroves Co-operation To Be Discussed

MEETING IS SET FOR NEXT WEEK

The board of directors of the Building Industries Exchange will meet next week to study sewer problems in the townships with the intention of helping in borough-township co-operation.

Meeting Thursday, the board heard its president, Allen K. Davidheiser, explain the problems of planning and carrying out a joint sewer system.

No action was taken, but Davidheiser hopes to continue with the discussion next week, with an eye toward helping the Exchange form a policy toward possible sewer co-operation between Pottstown and the Pottsgroves.

All interested parties will be invited to the study session. Davidheiser said. He is a member of the Pottstown borough authority, which administrates the sewer system.

Pool Filled – With Junk, Trash

Mrs. Ira Stoughton, 1374 Queen street, starts the thankless task of bailing out her swimming pool after vanadals tossed a tremendous amount of trash into it. All of the items shown around the 18-foot wide plastic pool were fished out of the water. The three trash cans and the incinerator were full when they were dumped in the pool, and the wheelbarrow was loaded with topsoil. The Stoughtons also found their hammock and numerous other items in the pool when they awoke Thursday morning.

Mrs. Stoughton said she and her husband have had the pool—which holds 5500 gallons of water—for only two weeks, and have been able to use it only once because of inclement weather. "The ironic part of it," Mrs. Stoughton said Thursday night, "is that I just bought a new pair of swimming trunks for my husband. We certainly are disappointed."

The Stoughtons called the Goodwill Fire company and asked if company personnel could pump the filthy water from the pool. They decided to do the job themselves after learning it would cost $25 an hour—and the job would take 5½ hours.

Thursday night—with the aid of Four syphons, four hoses and a host of neighbors—the pool was dry. But still facing the Stoughtons is the task of cleaning the plastic sides and bottom of the pool.

"I don't know if we'll ever be able to use it again," Mrs. Stoughton said.

Pottstown Steel Links Roadway Across Bridge

Bethlehem Steel company crews Thursday erected the closing section structural steel for the new lower level roadway of the George Washington bridge, a product of Pottstown.

The Pottstown Bethlehem plant fabricated the 17,437 tons of steel used in the six lane traffic deck addition. The new deck was built by raising 76 prebuilt sections, all but one of 220 tons each, into position beneath the existing roadway.

Work began Jan. 19, and The Port of New York Authority, the owner, expects it will be open for traffic in 1962.

The existing George Washington span, the third largest suspension bridge in the world, was also built with steel fabricated in Pottstown.

JUST 32 YEARS AGO, on June 25, 1928, Bethlehem Steel began erecting the magnificent towers for the George Washington bridge — towers made in Pottstown. The bridge carries traffic across the Hudson river from Ft. Lee, N.J. to upper Manhattan between 178th and 179th streets.

Three years and four months later the bridge was opened to traffic. Its main span, 3500 feet between towers and total suspended span, 4760 feet between anchorage, made it the world's longest.

It became second longest in 1937 when Bethlehem erected San Francisco's Golden Gate bridge, a 4200-foot span, also fabricated in Pottstown. The George Washington bridge is now the world's third longest according to center span. The Mackinac Straights (Michigan) bridge has a 3800-foot long center span.

But even when it was opened in 1931, the George Wash-

RECORD TURNOUT MARKS ELECTION

A record turnout at Stanley G. Flagg and company highlighted a union election at the firm on Thursday.

Ballots were cast until 8 p. m. in the plant and the election fight was between slates headed by incumbent president James Corum Sr. and Henry Stewart, a shop steward running for head of Local 2326, United Steel workers.

Results were inconclusive at 2:30 o'clock but indicated that Corum's full slate of top officers would be returned to duty.

The record number of ballots totaled 1003 out of 1200 persons eligible to vote.

Rubber Workers Announce Dates For Wage Talks

The United Rubber Workers union in Akron, Ohio, Thursday announced starting dates for wage negotiations affecting 67,000 workers at three of the nation's largest rubber companies.

The URW said wage talks with Firestone Tire and Rubber company will start July 18 in Cleveland and on July 26, negotiations will open there with Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, U. S. Rubber company and the union will meet in Cincinnati July 26.

No date was set for the B. F. Goodrich company, the other member of the industry's big four.

The URW's policy committee recently adopted an economic program calling for an unspecified pay raise.

Negotiations will be conducted under a provision of the union's contract which allows a reopening at any time on wages.

The talks will cover 18,000 Firestone workers in eight cities, 24,000 Goodyear employes in 11 cities and 25,000 U. S. Rubber workers in 18 plants.

Air-Conditioning Bids Accepted By Authority

Joseph Zangrilli and sons, 55 High street, offered the low bid Thursday for construction of an air conditioning system for the administrative offices of Pottsgrove High school.

Nice Weather To Fade Away

Fine weather pervaded Pottstown on Thursday, but those conditions will vanish for a while.

The 24 hour lack of clouds and rain was a refreshing respite, since weather conditions preceding Thursday were bleak for several days.

The single day of sunshine will disappear again because of a band of thun-

The Chamber of Commerce $50,000 parking fund is off to an excellent start, with little doubt the goal will be reached, vice chairman Edward N. Hoffman said Thursday.

Twelve businesses and individuals committed themselves Thursday, bringing to 15 the donors filling the coffers to back up the borough in starting two new off-street parking lots.

Area Residents Relieved President Canceled Trip

A survey Thursday by The Mercury indicated that many Pottstown area persons are glad President Eisenhower's trip was canceled if it meant a major incident.

Only one person of seven questioned said that Mr. Eisenhower should go in face of the violent demonstrations against the visit.

Only 20 minutes after Japan's Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi told newsmen at 4:40 a. m., Pottstown time, that he was forced to ask President Eisenhower to postpone the visit, The Mercury was being distributed in Pottstown with a story of the cancelation. The Mercury was the only morning newspaper delivered in Pottstown to tell of this cancelation.

David O. Lewis, 352 Cherry street, the only person who thought Mr. Eisenhower should go, said if the President would go, the Japanese would "have respect for us and know that the United States is not afraid of them.

"WE HAVE been in the middle of the road long enough, now it's time to make a stand one way or the other. By him not going, it looks as if the Japanese were dictating to us," Lewis

UNITED FUND OKAYS HIGHER 1961 BUDGET

Campaign Goal Set At $230,694 By Panel

The board of directors of the Pottstown and area United Fund set a 1960-61 campaign goal Thursday some $16,000 above the total allotment for the current year.

The board adopted its budget with proposed 1961 allotments of $230,694 when it met Thursday noon at the Brookside Country club. A total of $214,730 is this year's allotment.

The campaign will open Oct. 3 and run four weeks.

Man Is Acquitted Of Giving Youth Slot Machine

A Myerstown man, accused of providing a slot machine for a local teen-ager, was acquitted of the charge Thursday by Judge William F. Dannehower following a trial without a jury in Montgomery county Criminal court.

The defendant, Michael A. Reposki, was arrested by State Trooper Harry Crane, and Police Chief Harold E. Hahn following an investigation into the activities of Thomas Trojanowski and three companions who were taken into custody for a series of burglaries. Crane said the slot machine was discovered in Trojanowski's room.

Although he denied giving the device to Trojanowski, the defendant admitted he had sold it to the operator of a Pottstown service station.

Judge Dannehower found him not guilty, but ordered him to pay the costs.

Pollock Doing Rush Job On Vital Radar Screen

Mayer Pollock company is building a device that should let America know exactly from where and when missiles are launced against the free world.

The steel firm on South Keim street is making vital parts for two revolutionary radar towers. The gigantic radar is known as the Madre project and was developed by Radio Corporation of America.

It is being erected at a National Research center in Maryland and will be able to monitor missile bases behind the Iron Curtain.

"Radar beams from the towers should bend around the curvature of the earth, and it is fully hoped that Communist rocket bases will be pinpointed," explained Frederick Raker, superintendent at Mayer Pollock.

RAKER, A lawyer turned production engineer, said his firm is making the entire rotating antenna for one radar tower that will probe Russia. His company also is making parts for a fixed-type antenna tower.

The rotating device will be 100 feet in diameter and will be on a tower 230 feet high. The fixed radar will be 30 feet wide

Mother, Daughter Find Lucky Bucks

A South Pottstown mother and daughter each found Lucky Bucks worth $3 while shopping Thursday.

Mrs. Lillian Magliochetti, 384 New street, got her Lucky Buck after she purchased a dress at Russell's Dress shop. Her daughter, Doris, 17, got hers while shopping for Bermuda shorts at the Betty Lee shop.

Twenty-five other shoppers found Lucky Bucks Thursday—three of them worth $5 each and the rest all worth $3 each.

That means there still is a host of bills out. A Lucky Buck worth $100 will be added to those in circulation today. A total of 195 of the dollar bills worth much more than a dollar bill is still in circulation.

Unregistered Bicycles Estimated At 1900

There are still about 1900 youngsters in the borough who must get their bicycles registered.

Since police started issuing licenses three weeks ago only 496 bicycles have been registered. There are an estimated 2400 bicycles in the borough.

Police Chief Harold Hahn said Thursday he hopes to have the job completed by the first of July. Children may register their bikes at borough hall any week day between 2 and 4 p. m., or on Saturdays between 10 a. m. and noon.

The cost for registering a bicycle for a two-year period is 25 cents.

Joint Sewer System Bars Duplication and Debts

(Editor's Note: This is the concluding article on multi-town sewage systems. It recaps how seven areas have solved the sewage disposal problem by farsighted planning.)

"The crux of the sewage disposal problem is in the initial cost," said Paul X. Blattler, managing engineer of the Lower Bucks county Joint Municipal authority.

"When you have a number of plants and a duplication of facilities, people are saddled with unnecessary debt . . . through improper planning," he explained.

Will engineering studies bear this out when the Pottsgroves move into sewer plann-

County Judge R. M. Harris, promised punishment worse than bee stings if they persisted.

Some people are so afraid to die that they never begin to live.
— Henry van Dyke

What of Automatic Gates?

IT may be reaching slightly to tie in for review a planned request of the Reading company to instal automatic crossing gates on South Hanover street and a Pennsylvania railroad crossing fatal accident at Squirrel Hollow, but the two events lend themselves to some thought.

Might that Squirrel Hollow accident been prevented if automatic gates were placed there? Would a life have been saved if a watchman were on guard there?

Wednesday's fatality was the second in three years in that general vicinity. The first was on the Reading company tracks. Neither track is guarded by gates. What would gates or watchmen do here?

Would it be to safety's credit to close the road entirely to traffic, or would too many persons object? Would it be well for governmental officials to consider underpasses at these tracks?

It would be well if township and railroad officials were to consider some way to cut down the death toll here.

This railroad fatality comes at a bad time for Reading company officials, who expect to ask the borough of Pottstown for permission to instal automatic traffic gates at the South Hanover street crossing.

Railway officials say the gates they would put in are modern, safe and would tend to save time. They say they are foolproof. They say there will be no delays such as often caused by shifters on the Pennsylvania railroad crossing at South Hanover street.

Will Pottstown motorists and pedestrians agree that the gates would be safe? Are Pottstonians so accustomed to a human watchmen there that they will oppose such gates?

What will this latest fatality mean to Reading company plans?

Deaths such as Wednesday's should give both government officials and the man on the street an opportunity to do much thinking before planning a course of action.

No Job for Junior

SCHOOLS are out. So teen-agers will be looking for jobs. Some organizations plan to help them get Summer employment. That's a good idea.

Many of these youngsters will be needing money for college, and all will benefit from the experience of working, earning and managing the money they earn. Working hours these days still leave plenty of time for recreation, and there's no homework to interfer.

But the employment drives are running into some snags. The webs of laws and red tape our governments have woven are proving the biggest barriers to Summer jobs for young people in many cases.

One man, a portly fellow of 60, was about to start mowing his lawn when a couple of husky teen-agers came by and offered to do it for him. The price was right, and the householder wanted to hire them. But he said no.

"I already had a cleaning woman who came in once a week," he said. "If I hired these kids, I'd have two employes. I would have to go downtown and take out a workmen's compensation insurance policy at a cost of $60.

The young men didn't get the job, and the older fellow was tired and out of sorts before the lawn was cut.

Local regulations requiring working certificates even in Summer, and Federal minimum wage requirements, social security and income tax deductions often make hiring temporary help a lot of trouble.

And parents, who sometimes must add what Junior earns to their own tax returns at high tax rates, sometimes are unenthusiastic about the lad's working.

And sometimes the situation is complicated by union shops, which require initiation fees, membership applications that take time, and other expensive and delaying red tape.

The day of the casual Summer job, such a help to eager youngsters in other days, seems to be passing — one more casualty of creeping public and private bureaucratization.

PUNKIN CORNERS,

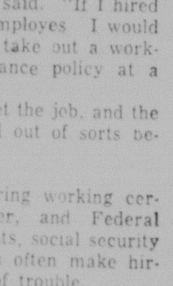
Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where Castro's latest tirade against the United States was aired in his speech before a barbers' convention in Havana — where, of course, he felt free to make plenty of cutting remarks.



An empty whisky bottle, cast adrift 3000 miles away, came ashore at a Scotch port. Looking for a refill?

The word "dandelion," I read, comes from the French and means "lion's tooth." And it's just about as hard to pull!

And say: Whatever you may think of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's comments, you'll have to admit he's suddenly become the life of the Grand Old Party.

Hopin' you air the same,

There'll Be Nothing for Women to Do

Nothing But Leisure

To the Editor: One of the great material achievements of our age has been the reduction of drudgery in the home, due to automatic appliances.

Twelve billion work-free hours are expected to accrue to American women as a result of total electric living by the end of the 60s. This means that the average homemaker will save 2000 hours of work annually, or five hours a day.

Electrical washing and drying, it is forecast, will save her six hours a week; ironing five hours; shopping, six hours; dishwashing, ten and one-half hours; garbage disposal, one hour; automatic electric cooking, three hours, and miscellaneous items, such as electric cleaning, six and one-half hours.

It's a bright prospect—and it has almost infinite implications. The woman of the 1970s will be as different as the woman of the Victorian era was from the flappers of the 1920s.

The American homemaker by 1979 will probably look 10 or 15 years younger than she actually is, will probably speak more than one language, possibly drive an electric car and certainly be more interested in geography and outer space than gardening, and will be a tutor and teacher to her children as well as a more conscientious parent.

To the Editor: With all the vandalism and destruction in the schools it seems strange no one has come up with a constructive solution to this vexing problem.

We Need Leaders

To the Editor: "A Call for Leadership," which was made by your editorial June 10, points up that current viewing of our public personalities makes it quite apparent we are sadly dispossessed of men qualified to advance healing theories on the wounds of the world.

For example, while discussing such subjects as the recent U2 incident they concur is was an unfortunate occurrence, but reveal an inherent conviction that spying, because it is a necessity of war, is justified and quite natural because "these things have been going on since the beginning of civilization.

They deem it a personal triumph to challenge anyone who may question the wisdom of war as a solution to international problems.

Clearly, men who casually refer to war and spying as a bosom companion to civilization have failed to emerge from their primitive caves.

Their dwellings, where they shout and pound their chests, still lie deep in the shadows and they are in the public light only because the overwhelming majority of their neighbors are good solid cave dwellers from way back.

These neighbors will stress vehemently that appeasement and unpatriotism are prevalent if it is suggested major problems can be resolved without the whole world getting all bloodied up.

Plato said of civil government that the world will be best ruled when either philosophers shall be kings or kings shall have philosophical minds.

We have one potential candidate who may fit this image. His name is Adlai Stevenson.

Boyertown PLEDGED

Kidding or Real?

To the Editor: I was interested in your editorial "Whose Government Is It, Anyway," (June 16) and certainly agree there is too much hidden government business. It ought to be brought out into the open.

They tell a story in the pentagon in Washington about a guy who never did a stroke of work. Gossip was that he was on classified duty. But he couldn't stand the gibes of his fellow workers. So one day he had a sign on his desk. It said "Don't think I'm inefficient. The secrecy of my job doesn't allow me to know what I'm doing."

The Voice of Broadway

Miss Midnight's Notebook:

ADMIRERS OF President Eisenhower should have bombarded him with telegrams asking him not to make the trip to Japan—or any of the other Far East countries. It's sheer nuttiness. If these nations are our friends, there's no need for the President of the United States to risk his life—or even his dignity—to prove it. If they aren't, his appearance isn't likely to make them love us.

As for the Philippines—ask any top-ranking editor of Reader's Digest about the expose they're ready to break. It will make history.

All these countries just want money from the United States. Why can't we send the dollars and keep the President at home?

MILLIONAIRE PETER Howard tells chums he'll marry Amru Sani in Venice later this month. The general reaction is "rots of ruck," and the betting against it has started already. Peter has been engaged to a variety of beauties ever since he was old enough to pick up a night club tab—Betsy von Furstenburg was one of the early choices, 'way back in the forties—but he's never made the altar.

The rich members of the cast of "Take Me Along" benefitted from the actors' strike. It gave Walter Pidgeon a chance to regain his voice, and Jackie Gleason's leg healed.

The Worry Clinic

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE

ED M., aged 35, was recently dismissed from the Navy for homosexuality, even though he was a high ranking officer.

"Dr. Crane, I feel that I might as well end it all," he spoke dejectedly.

"How can I ever face my family? And I have a younger brother who is now in the Air Corps with a captain's rank. He has always looked up to me, and thought I was swell.

"Besides, I was the president of our company, and made $10,000 per year before I entered service. And, I am engaged to a fine girl back in my hometown.

"So how can I ever explain my present discharge? Are homosexuals just born that way?

"I've vowed to break the habit and have prayed. My clergyman has helped me, but every so often, I succumb to temptation."

LITERALLY HUNDREDS of men like Ed consulted me during the period of the war, and for the same type of reason.

Recently, I spent two full days at the request of a prominent Chicago clergyman trying to get a talented Army officer transferred to a new field as a means of giving him a second chance, but his superiors wouldn't give him that chance because of his homosexual behavior.

Ed is wrong in thinking that homosexuals are "born that way". Nobody is born with a love for anybody.

We all have the instinct or potential capacity for love, but whether we shall focus upon our own sex or the opposite sex, is purely a matter of training.

At the age of 9 or 10, boys and girls are normally in the homosexual or "gang" stage, where they greatly prefer their own sex and have very little use for the opposite sex.

IN THE TEENS, however, perhaps 90 percent of people are trained to look to the opposite sex for romance and affection.

Most of these have both fathers and mothers at home, so they have an ever present example of heterosexuality to teach them the proper attitude.

But some 5 to 10 percent of our youth may be orphaned or without one parent and thus lack this normal home background.

If some older child then initiates them into physical sexual experiences, this latent capacity for love will fasten upon that older child of the same sex, and hence they fall in love with their own kind.

Homosexuality, therefore, simply means that the basic instinct we all possess for love, has simply been misdirected by accidental factors in the environment, so that we develop a romantic affection for our own sex.

It is more likely to arise, therefore, in a one-sex college, as in a girl's boarding school or a man's college. It is also very common in the prisons, and the military forces where males congregate together.

Inside Television

By EVE STARR

STARR REPORT: Next season the ladies in the audience are going to miss out on an exceptionally attractive young man named Chris Warfield. Warfield has just about everything the ladies like. He is good-looking in a moderately rugged way, and a fine credible light-comedy actor. Unfortunately, he doesn't have a series.

He thought he had one. He made a pilot film at Paramount called "innocent Jones." In it he played a free-lance writer wandering around Europe and getting into trouble.

The trouble is caused by a lady wanderer, played by Merry Anders, who constantly enlists the reluctant aid of the free-lance writer in one hopeless scheme after another.

"INNOCENT JONES" offers the strictly light-hearted, tongue-in-cheek kind of comedy TV has used too little and should, at this point, offer in large doses.

It is reminiscent of "Dear Phoebe," "My Hero" and "The Bob Cummings Show," with overtones of "Colonel Flack."

It is written and produced by Carey Wilbur, one of Hollywood's better comedy writers, and directed by Chris Nybie, an old and accomplished hand at directing comedy. Warfield and Merry make a delightful team.

There was just one thing wrong. It didn't sell. And why is something of a mystery. Several of the Madison avenue experts thought it was a straight drama and failed to spot the humor—which is pretty much like looking at a great Dane and mistaking it for a toy poodle. Others complained they couldn't see "where the show could go from here," an indication of the greatest lack of imagination since Robert Fulton's steamboat was sneered at.

NOW I HAVE no personal interest in "Innocent Jones." I have no money invested in it. I contributed absolutely nothing to its creation. I do know the people associated with it very slightly.

However, I am taking up the cudgels for it. Oren Harris, only because it strikes me as being delightfully adult comedy which is considerably better than other pilot films I have seen which have sold. I could mention "Happy," for example.

What is needed is a new and different way of separating the wheat from the chaff when each season's 200-odd pilot films are brought to the market, meaning Madison avenue. Too many unqualified people are looking at too many pilots too quickly and are making decisions in what amounts to an atmosphere of sheer desperation. And, as is inevitably the case, it is the viewers who wind up suffering.

Interpreting The News

It Costs Money To Demonstrate

By RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI
Associated Press Observer

Masses of humanity with healthy lungs to shout slogans, and strong legs to snakedance or parade for hours, are needed for the demonstrations Japanese leftists have been staging against Premier Nobusuke Kishi, the alliance with the United States and President Eisenhower's now-canceled visit.

But they also cost money. And who is paying the bill, estimated as high as 500 million yen, or $1,400,000, for the current month-long outburst?

Money is needed for the tens of thousands of banners, flags, placards, armbands, headbands, scarfs, caps, leaflets, vehicles and lunches for the Japanese demonstrating.

Union members who turn out must be paid for working time lost and transportation downtown and back.

Japanese security officials say that although the Japanese Communist party has been receiving funds from abroad for years, there is no evidence to show the present demonstrations are financed through international channels.

But Kosaka Shinoda, secretary-general of Kishi's Liberal-Democratic party, hinted that overseas Communist sources are helping to foot the bill.

He charged that Peiping and Moscow ordered the expensive demonstrations, and added that the known funds collected by the Socialist party or the Red-tinged Sohyo labor federation fall far short of the outlay required.

He cited reports that students who took part in the attack on the automobile of White House press secretary James C. Hagerty last week received 1,000 yen—$2.78—each, while participants in other demonstrations received 350-500 yen.

"It is certain that the expenses went into the hundreds of million yen," said a spokesman of the national council opposing revision of the security treaty.

The council is composed of 134 organizations opposing the treaty.

The spokesman said 40,000 demonstrators came from out of town for last week's demonstrations to impress on Hagerty their opposition to Eisenhower's visit.

The official party budget is 130 million yen—$361,000—80 per cent of it revenue from Communist publications, he said.

Remittances from Communist China and the Soviet Union, acknowledged officially, amounted to 200 million yen over the past 10 years, the officials said. Of this 50 million was for the council against atomic and hydrogen bombs, 50 million for the left-wing peace committee, and 100 million for the defense of Communists accused of overturning a train.

In addition 150 million yen were reportedly sent to support a strike of coal miners in Kyushu, officials said.

They add that other remittances may have escaped detection.

Sculptor Gets Bid... Students Honored...

★ HONORED — Mari Baum Landes, Schuylkill road, has been invited by the United States department of the interior to show her sculpture, "Freedom, Bound", at Independence Hall, Philadelphia. The curator has selected the 15 critics' choice works of art from "Portrait of Freedom", a project directed by Quentin H. Smith. Smith said it is expected that over 250,000 visitors will see this work during the month of July. Mari's sculpture, which is now at the State gallery in Harrisburg, is a symbolistic figure, showing the urgent need for every American to protect his heritage of freedom. The artist, who is Mrs. Alvin Landes in private life, has also been invited to show five of her paintings at the Barregat Light gallery in New Jersey during the annual exhibit of paintings and prints of foremost artists of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York and Delaware. Her work was chosen by Director Sidney Rothman, who said he had to break the rule of not more than two paintings per artist because of difficulty in choosing between the five. Mari's paintings were consistently moody, showing her preoccupation with the continuous conflict in the inner being of man and nature.

BRIGHT — Two local students at Muhlenberg college, Allentown, were placed on the dean's list for scholastic ability. They were Edgar P. Nace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nace, Collegeville, and Caroline J. Fetterolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fetterolf, Boyertown pike. . . . John Stahl, one of the graduating seniors of Pottsgrove High school, was given a certificate of merit in farm mechanics from the Thor Research Center for Better Living in Marengo, Ill. . . . Army Pvt. Harry W. Seavers, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Seavers, 67 North Hanover street, was assigned to Dugway Proving Ground, Utah. A cook in the company. Seavers entered the Army in December 1959 and received basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C. He is a 1959 graduate of Pottstown High school.

★ POLITICAL WAGGERY — As the time for political conventions approached and campaign oratory waxed louder, every wag from solons to saloonkeepers had his favorite political gag. According to Time the word around the Pentagon was that if Nelson Rockefeller believes the nation needs $3 billion more for defense, "why doesn't he just write a check?" Other impious tales current in the nation: (Adlai Stevenson and aides encounter Nikita Khrushchev during his visit to the U. S.) Nikita: I have some tips for you on how to seize power. Adlai (horrified): That's not the way we do things here. Aide to Adlai: Shut up and listen—he might have something. . . . Father Joe Kennedy sits down for a man-to-man talk with his son, Jack. Father: What do you want to be, son? Jack: I want to be President. Father: I know, I know—but what do you want to be when you grow up?. . . (Vice President Nixon is approached by a little old lady after one of his speeches). Little Old Lady: Is it true, Mr. Nixon, that you were born in a log cabin? Nixon: No, madam, it is not. Perhaps you were thinking of Abraham Lincoln. Actually, I was born in a manger.

TRAINER — Lt. David P. Griffin, 15 East Fouth street, is undergoing two weeks of annual active duty for training with an Army postal unit of Reading at Ft. Meade, Md. Griffin, information officer for the 413th, entered the Army in Sept. 1957. A graduate of the University of Delaware, Newark, Del., Lt. Griffin is department manager for retail sales with J. C. Penney Co., Pottstown, (Pa.) He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. While on duty, his unit will operate a branch postoffice with their Regular Army counterpart, the Fort Meade Post office. This on-the-job training—most of which could not be accomplished at the home station—brings to a climax the year-long training cycle of the reserve unit.

Your Health

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mrs. E. B.: My three children are grown and married and I now find I am again pregnant.

I am 44 years old and have been told this is very dangerous at my age.

I feel wonderful and want this baby very much but wonder what can be meant by "dangerous".

Answer: There is very little additional risk in having a baby at 44 years of age if you are otherwise in good health.

It is certainly not "very dangerous."

Mrs. V. R.: Can you tell me what causes my heart to skip a beat?

My electrocardiograms are negative and the doctor tells me to forget about it, but the condition bothers me.

Could it damage my health if it is allowed to continue?

Answer: Simple skipped beats, called extrasyctoles, are usually of no significance. They may come from "nerves", coffee or tobacco.

If you smoke—stop it!

Mrs. M. N.: Is there anything that can remove warts?

Answer: Many cauterizing agents, such as salicylic acid or bichloracetic acid, as well as injections of certain bismuth preparations, are useful in removing common warts. They often disappear spontaneously.

Roberts Pupils Win Emblems In FFA Competition

Two pupils of Owen J. Roberts High school won silver medals for contest entries at the State Future Farmers of America Activities Week program at Pennsylvania State university.

C. Miller Long, Pottstown RD 2, won an emblem for finishing fifth among 16 contestants in dairy products judging.

David Swavely, Pottstown RD 1, won the other emblem by finishing 15th among 134 contestants in the farm mechanics contest.

Kenneth Bickel, Pottstown RD 1, finished 100th among 176 entrants in livestock judging, and Thomas Emery, Birchrunville, was 41st among 241 contestants in dairy cattle judging.

The group was accompanied to the university by Neal Burtner, Pottstown RD 1, teacher of agriculture at Owen J. Roberts High school.

All four pupils recently completed their Junior year at the school.

HURT IN FALL

Michael Gumpert, 5, of Monacacy, suffered a scalp cut Thursday when he fell off a fence while playing. The child was treated at Pottstown hospital and released at 11:45 a. m. after three stitches were used to close the wound.

Missile, Airplane Strike Is Marked by Violence

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP)—The labor situation for 70,000 workers in the missiles and airplane industry was mottled Thursday by scuffles with police and picket arrests, one strike settlement, another threat of strike, negotiations, and a court injunction against mass picketing.

Five hundred pickets of the striking International Assn. of Machinists tussled with police and highway patrolmen while trying to turn back reporting workers at the 640-acre Lockheed missile and space plant in Sunnyvale. It makes the Polaris.

Six pickets, one a kicking, screaming woman, were arrested as trouble flared at the main gate for the second straight day.

Lockheed officials obtained a temporary court injunction, restricting pickets to four to a gate or one every 20 feet.

In all, 10,000 workers are out at Lockheed missile plants in California.

More than 17,000 Douglas workers returned to their jobs at its Long Beach, Calif., aircraft plant after the United Auto Workers agreed on a two-year package contract calling for wage increases of 11 cents an hour plus fringe benefits. The plant builds DC8 jet transports.

Another 11,000 Douglas workers threatened to strike a Santa Monica plant which produces the Thor missile.

Three hundred Convair machinists settled a nine-day strike at Cape Canaveral, contingent on company withdrawal of a clause related to layoffs.

Machinists representing 27,000 Convair workers on aircraft and Atlas missiles met with employers in negotiations at San Diego, Calif. A federal mediator, E. Marvin Sconyers, expressed belief a settlement is near.

Another federal negotiator met in San Francisco with Lockheed officials and IAM representatives. There was an absence of optimistic statements for this session.

The strikes called or threatened were over contract demands ranging from 14 to 17 cents in hourly wage increases.

Lockheed and Douglas strikes began at midnight Tuesday. Convair IAM strikes began 10 days ago. One Douglas strike was at its Charlotte, N.C., Nike-Hercules antiaircraft missile plant.

Although the IAM-Convair talks at San Diego were viewed with optimism, negotiators made slow headway for 6,000 engineers at Convair plants.

The agreement for return to work of Douglas employes at Long Beach also applied to a plant at Tulsa, Okla.

Britain's Hiking Sergeants Near End of Transcontinental Walk

NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J. (AP) — Britain's two hiking sergeants trudged to within sight of the skyscrapers of New York Thursday and the end of a 2,970-mile, coast-to-coast march.

Interviewed as they rested in this suburban town, the pair summed up their thoughts about the long walk in two words: "Never again."

"We walked the length and breadth of England and the width of America," said Sgt. Mervyn Evans, 33. "There's nothing left to walk. As far as we're concerned, we've made the walk to end all walks."

Sgt. Patrick Moloney, 34, asked whether he would repeat his trek, replied, "Are you kidding? This is once in a lifetime."

The two sturdy Britons got a haircut here—their first in six weeks.

They planned to spend the night near Newark before striding through the Lincoln Tunnel under the Hudson River and into New York. Their destination is the British Exhibition in New York's Coliseum at 10:30 a.m. Friday.

Vacation Happiness Relived With Photos

The three pictures above were taken last Summer by Mr. and Mrs. Karl S. Gross, Athol, during an eight-day combination honeymoon and vacation spent touring the New England states. The Grosses began their trip July 18—the same day they were married.

Shown at the left is the entrance to the 1000 Island Parkway on the St. Lawrence river between New York State and Canada.

The snapshot in the center shows an aerial tramway which carried the Grosses to the top of Twin Mountain at Franconia Notch, New Hampshire.

Gross is an automatic welder at Pottstown Metal Products division of the Cochrane corporation. His wife is a clerk at Montgomery County Bank and Trust company, 205 High street.

The Mercury invites its readers to share memories of past vacations with others. Send your pictures in now.

Be certain the snapshots are clear. Include information on where you went, with whom, for how long, and anything else that would interest our readers. Share that trip you'll never forget with others.

Infant Mortality Rate Reduced 34 Percent

HARRISBURG (AP) — One of every 40 babies born in Pennsylvania last year died before reaching one year of age, the State Health department reported Thursday.

There were 246,615 babies born alive last year, the department said, and 6145 of the infants died before reaching their first birthday.

Dr. Charles L. Wilbar, State health secretary, said infant mortality rates in the State have been reduced by 34 percent in the past 15 years.

He attributed the decline to prenatal care for more mothers, an increase in the number of hospital births, and the prevention and control of infective diseases.

The department reported 44 percent of the infant deaths occurred during the first day of life and another 33 percent occurred before the 28th day.

WORKERS LAUDED

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda, the Communist party paper, ordered more publicity for workers who regularly exceed production quotas. The paper also called on the nation's communications media to expose bureaucrats who stand in the way of "inovators"—workers who want to push the current seven-year plan to speedier fulfillment.

Frankly Our Warehouse Is Overstocked

The loss of our first floor at the King Street warehouse has created a terrific storage problem for us! We are changing this floor into a display area for super values. We're cramped for space and must have room! Carpenters are already at work, therefore much of our merchandise must be placed in our store at Charlotte and High St. We've got 5 big floors, but even Houdini couldn't begin to store all this merchandise in the space available! This problem plus shipments of Summer and Fall merchandise now in transit makes it imperative that we create storage space immediately! Whatever plans you may have made for the weekend, cancel them and plan to be here when Block's store doors open today 9:30 a. m.

Where Ten Miles are a Revelation!

As far as distance is concerned, it may not sound like much of a journey.

But even a brief acquaintance with the "car of cars" constitutes a revelation in modern motoring.

You sense this the instant you settle into the driver's seat. For comfort and spaciousness and luxury have never been more beautifully combined in a motor car.

And then you turn the key—press your toe to the accelerator—and the seat cushion presses against your shoulders to announce you're off!

The car rolls out into the city's traffic in extraordinary silence. The steering wheel moves as if your hands had been blessed with a magic touch.

Then, as the city streets blend into more spacious boulevards, Cadillac's magnificent riding qualities come more keenly to notice.

You seem almost to float over the highway. Any flaws in its surface are simply absorbed before they can make themselves known.

The car moves with an incredible feeling of substance and solidity—and with an inbred sense of mastery over the roadway.

Why not visit your dealer this week—and see for yourself how truly inspiring a motor car can be.

He'll be happy to lend you the keys for the ten most memorable miles of the year!

Blind Prisoner 'Adopted' By Interested Citizens

STILLWATER, Minn. (AP) — Frank Novak, 78-year-old blind lifer whose parole from the Stillwater State Prison was delayed because nobody wanted him, finally won his freedom Thursday.

Novak was sentenced for murder in 1910. He became blind four years ago.

Some time ago he became eligible for parole, but no relatives could be found to assume responsibility for him. A court fight developed between his home county and the county in which the prison was located, with neither willing to accept the elderly man as a relief case. The dispute is still in the courts.

Thursday, however, Novak was released to the care of 11 Minneapolis and St. Paul business and professional men.

Irving Neverov, Minneapolis lawyer who sparked the move for Novak's release, said, "I just couldn't believe what I read in the papers about the situation. I couldn't believe the people of the state could be so cold to him."

Neverov said arranging the sponsorship for Novak was "the easiest thing I ever did. I just had to tell the story and I didn't even have to ask for anything."

He said Novak was installed in a "comfortable Minneapolis boardinghouse run by a very kind woman."

Rose Theft Excused

BATH, England (AP)—When a magistrate asked David Stephenson, 70, what he was going to do with 16 roses he snatched from a floral arch in a Bath park, old Davey came up with the right answer: "I was going to give them to the ladies. They appreciate them." Case dismissed, the court ruled.

Gamble Awarded $150 Per Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Gamble Benedict Porumbeanu Thursday was awarded a $150 a week allowance from a future inheritance, plus medical and educational expenses. She had asked $375 a week.

Surrogate Samuel DiFalco sided with the 19-year-old runaway's grandmother, Katherine Geddes Benedict, who had offered $150 a week and medical and educational expenses up to $5,000 a year.

However, DiFalco appointed a special guardian to investigate the girl's financial needs and set another hearing for Aug. 16.

Gamble, who eloped April 6 over her grandmother's opposition and married Romanian-born Andre Porumbeanu, comes into a typewriter fortune estimated at $450,000 at the age of 21. This is from the estate of her mother, who died in 1946.

Claiming she was penniless, Gamble asked the court to allow her $1,500 a month from the inheritance.

Delinquent Monkeys Given New Chance

NAPLES, Fla. (AP — Monkey business is good for the Snowballs—Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Snowball, that is.

Snowball gets delinquent monkeys from the Miami Humane Society, tames them, trains them as pets and sells them to animal lovers.

"I sell them as fast as I can train them," says Snowball, a former circus animal trainer.

The Miami Humane Society frequently receives gift monkeys from owners who can't control them. The society passes the little simians on to him rather than destroy them.

Under Snowball's tutelage, the monkeys become affectionate and learn tricks. He says his secret is treating them with care and kindness.

She entered the hospital last week for a recurring liver ailment. She has been in poor health for years but only recently was hoping to continue her night club career with a provincial tour.

Exam Questions Leak to Pupils

CAIRO (AP) — The Education Ministry has ordered 50,000 Egyptian high school physics and math students to take their finals again. The ministry learned the exam questions leaked out and were widely handed and phoned around so that passing was a snap for nearly all. Reports that the Israeli radio helped spread them were discounted.

Italian Movies Blasted

ROME (AP)—The minister of spectacles has told Italian moviemakers to clean up their films, or else. The moviemakers here rejected his ultimatum.

The minister, Umberto Tupini, complained Italian movies are intensifying a "search for subjects and themes of an erotic nature, assuming aspects almost pornographic."

If the films are not cleaned up, Tupini added in a letter to the president of the Assn. of Italian Movie Producers, he will stiffen censorship. He also hinted the producers had better toe the line if they expect government financial aid.

Tupini's letter was made public Wednesday and Eitel Monaco, president of the producers' association, replied with a two-sentence telegram: "We reject your letter, considering it offensive. We ask an interview (with you)."

Several Italian producers were more blunt. They said Tupini had served an ultimatum and that Italian film companies should go on strike until he withdraws it.

In recent months Roman Catholic circles in Italy have been particularly critical of many movies.

Tupini, a Christian Democrat, said the government has the "right to defend the state against every offense to public decency."

Irresolution on the schemes of life which offer themselves to our choice, and inconsistency in pursuing them, are the greatest causes of all our unhappiness.—Joseph Addison.

Reds Crack Down On Street Drinking

MOSCOW, (AP) — The Moscow City Council has banned public carousing.

In a sweeping ordinance aimed at eliminating the centuries-old practice of drinking in the streets and at public spectacles, the Council established on-the-spot fines for offenders.

The ordinance also ordered singers and musicians to stay off the streets between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m. And it banned the loud playing of radios and musical instruments between the same hours.

A curfew for school children was included in the new law. Parents may be fined for violations.

Ear Characteristics Determine Paternity

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — County Judge Arch Campbell decides paternity suits by comparing ears of male children with ears of purported fathers.

Campbell says that during his ten years on the bench he has determined 17 characteristics of the ear that may be inherited by sons from their fathers, and mainly relies on these in deciding such cases.

Campbell adds that the test does not apply for fathers and daughters.

UNITED FUND OKAYS HIGHER 1961 BUDGET

Klevickis, campaign chairman, reported at the meeting. Klevickis stated, "We think we can reach the goal this year."

The board elected Frederick G. Erb as president pro tempore. President A. J. DiMaggio may not be able to attend future meetings because of preparations for his new assignment to the Firestone Tire and Rubber company plant in Bethume, France, it was indicated.

THE BUDGET for 1961 was proposed by an 11 member committee headed by Whitney R. Kerchner.

It includes slight increases for all but two of the 21 agencies. The budgetry breakdown, with increases and decreases from 1960 totals shown in parantheses, follows:

Health Services, total $52,500 ($4525 more)—Memorial hospital, $12,000 ($600 more); Pottstown hospital, $17,000 ($850 more); Visiting Nurses association, $14,500 ($725 more); Mental Health clinic, $9000 ($2350) more).

Welfare agencies, total $44,000 ($3625 more)—Children's Aid society, $3500 ($175 more); Family Service, $14,000 ($1175 more); Health and Welfare council, $3000 ($1100 more); Salvation Army, $23,500 ($1175 more).

Recreation services, total $65,200 ($3260 more) — Community Camp, $5000 ($250 more); Chester County council of the Boy Scouts of America, $1200 ($60 less); Valley Forge council of the BSA, $12,500 ($625 more); Girl Scouts, $8000 ($400 more); YMCA, $21,500 ($1075 more); YWCA, $17,000 ($850 more).

Multifield and Health services, total $47,200 ($4260 more); American Red Cross, $34,000 ($1700 more); Montgomery county chapter of the Arthritis, Rheumatism and Cystic Fibrosis society, $1200 ($60 more); Montgomery county School for Physically Handicapped Children, $1000 (no allotment this year); Pennsylvania United Fund, $5000 (includes $3000 for the USO and $2000 for the Pennsylvania United Fund organization); United Cerebral Palsy, $2500 ($125 more); Pottstown chapter of the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children, $2500 ($125 more).

Administrative and campaign expenses are expected to take $15,794 ($294 more). A total of $6000 is set aside for shrinkage.

Pledges received through May 31 for the 1959-60 campaign totaled $216,587. A total of $179,439 has been paid out, leaving an unpaid balance of $37,148. Payment on pledges in the amount of $25,460 was reported for May by Elmer J. Jackson, treasurer.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A RADCLIFFE FRESHMAN read that one could absorb knowledge from a book by putting it under the pillow and sleeping on it all night. She tried it and was asked by her roommate in the morning, "Well, did you get anything out of sleeping on that book?"

"I sure did," admitted the frosh. "A stiff neck!"

The biggest howl heard west of Chicago in many months came from a justifiably enraged Montana housewife who discovered that the "swimming pool" she won in a TV contest was nothing more than a 69-cent fish bowl! She's taking the sponsor-owner of a furniture emporium to court—and if there's any justice she should collect plenty!

A farmer collared a veterinarian at the corner store and tried to snaggle a bit of free advice. "I've got a funny kind of horse," he explained. "Sometimes he walks normal, other times he has a bad limp. What should I do?" The vet snapped, "The next time he walks normal, sell him."

Will the crux of the situation be the existing Pottstown sewage treatment plant on Moser road?

WILL THIS plant make the difference between "people saddled with unnecessary debt" and people with modern sewage disposal facilities at a reasonable cost?

Only engineering studies — which always take into account planning for the future — will say it in black and white, but a few experiences in other areas give optimistic data favoring joint sewer operations.

Muhlenberg township saved a million dollars by tieing in with the city of Reading, and Reading in turn benefited by thereby being able to replace an ancient treatment plant with a new one.

Besides Muhlenberg's $1 million inital outlay savings, the township figures to save from $10,000 to $15,000 in costs of operating a plant of its own. And Reading can accomodate six other ajoining communities with modern facilities secured through the willingness of the small areas to co-operate.

POTTSTOWN and the three Pottsgroves must plan for the future. Pottstown hopes to grow more, and the townships will begin experiencing a population boom with the borough filling up.

Pottstown could afford, studies may show, to expand its plant for the future if it has the cooperation of the townships and revenues from the new users.

More revenues will mean better service, and the townships would be saving money by not needing another plant or plants, as studies may verify.

Plymouth - East Norriton townships saved $800,000 by going together, and already are planning to someday take other townships, not willing at the moment, into a new plant.

At Levittown, Pa., the sewer system was built at the same time as the huge development, saving untold thousands of dollars, because four different townships got together to share the cost and co-operate.

THE WYOMISSING valley Sanitary authority designed for growth, and although planned for two boroughs, now serves six other communities — all of which made studies and learned that hookup on a rental basis was the right move.

And the founders of the system are not stuck for expansion, because revenues will be available to expand when the time comes.

Pittsburgh has taken in 70 nearby communities in a joint sewer venture, and annual rental to all these users averages about $15 a year. Thirty municipalities feared Pittsburgh would have a foothold to "take over" if they joined the authority.

Residents in these towns are experiencing an object lesson in co-operation at the rate of rentals up to five times as high as Authority rates. One "loner" charges its sewer users $108 a year rental.

RADNOR, Marple and Haverford townships in Chester county didn't find a joint authority necessary. With their own authorities and bond issues, and interjurisdictional agreements, the three townships are using a single, workable collection system and sewage treatment plant.

Lower Merion has been at ease with the sewage treatment complexities because it started planning 60 years ago.

As Blattler commented, "Anytime you can bring in more areas, you can't help but save money.

"You must have unity if at all possible . . . and the sooner the better."

John F. Laboon, executive director of the Allegheny (Pittsburgh area) authority, said experience has shown joint ventures are the answer to the sewage disposal problem.

"It's the only way to do it anymore . . . anywhere."

Wyoming Difficult For Census Takers

CHEYENNE, Wyo., (AP) — It wasn't easy taking the census in the wide-open spaces of Wyoming.

One census taker hurdled a fence to get away from two enraged bulls, but then a goose bit her.

Another census taker's car stalled. He gave it a shove and it started rolling. While trying to stop it, the enumerator injured his arm. He had to hike 18 miles to make his next head count. On the way he killed a rattlesnake.

One woman enumerator had to cover her appointed rounds on snow shoes.

Another woman had to spend the night out in the desolate plains when her car bogged down in the mud 38 miles from the nearest town.

of the cancelation but says that the President "definitely must go there sometime, but there isn't much time left."

President Eisenhower will officially be out of office Jan. 20, 1961.

"IF THE Japanese government thinks his life would have been in danger, then he should stay away until things settle down.

"It's unfortunate that a minority group is able to swing such an affair, but this is the way it has happened in other places around the world where a minority has taken a hold," the Rev. Teske said.

He added that the demonstrations were not caused only by Mr. Eisenhower's planned visit, but also because of the bad feelings of Communist led Leftists toward Prime Minister Kishi.

"I also feel that the new United States-Japanese security treaty has caused some of the disturbances.

"We should try to hold Japan as a friend and continue to support them. Just because the minority hate us that is no reason to stop aid," the Rev. Teske said.

GAIL GABRIEL, 911 North Washington street, a recent graduate of Pottstown High school, said "I think it was a good idea for the trip to be called off. It would be terribly dangerous for him to go now. The Japanese government should have impressed on the people the importance of such a visit.

"We should continue friendly relations, however. Japan has been a very important part of our way of life," she said.

Any injury to the President might spark a war, said Clarence Koons, 102 Roland street, a salesman for the Philadelphia Electric company.

"We must prevent war at all costs, so I think it's good for him not to go. The danger is too much at this time," he said.

"I THINK it a terrible thing what the Japanese have done, said Joseph Hallman, 676 North Keim street, a machine operator for the Dana corporation.

"I was in Japan and know that a lot of American tax dollars are going into the country to help feed the people. I believe the recent demonstrations are caused by a small group of Communists exciting the college students.

"There are a lot of free people in Japan and I would not like to see us stop any aid we give them. If we stop, they might all turn Communist. But there's too much to consider. Our government officials can't figure it out, how can the average man," Hallman said.

MRS. ESTHER Levengood, a Macungie RD 1 housewife, said "as far as safety goes, it's better that the visit has been canceled. Even if the President was not injured, there would be a lot of persons that might get killed and even though they might be Communists, they are still people," she said.

Mrs. Levengood said that the Japanese government "is still friendly and we should try to help them as much as possible." But, she added, "as far as aid goes, there are many countries that need help so we should give it to countries that are more friendly.

Mary Walton, 624 Lincoln avenue, an employe of Levengood Dairies said, "I didn't think it was safe for him to go in the first place and I don't think he should go at all.

"But we can't penalize a country for what a few do. Any little misstep now might bring on a war and we should do all we can to keep peace," she said.

Local Army Induction Will Halt Temporarily

Pottstown will have no U.S. Army inductees during June, according to Elizabeth Black, local Selective Service clerk.

Mrs. Black will take a leave of absence the end of this month and beginning of July to enter the hospital.

A clerk from the Reading office will open the local office Tuesdays and Thursdays only, June 28 and 30, and July 5 and 7.

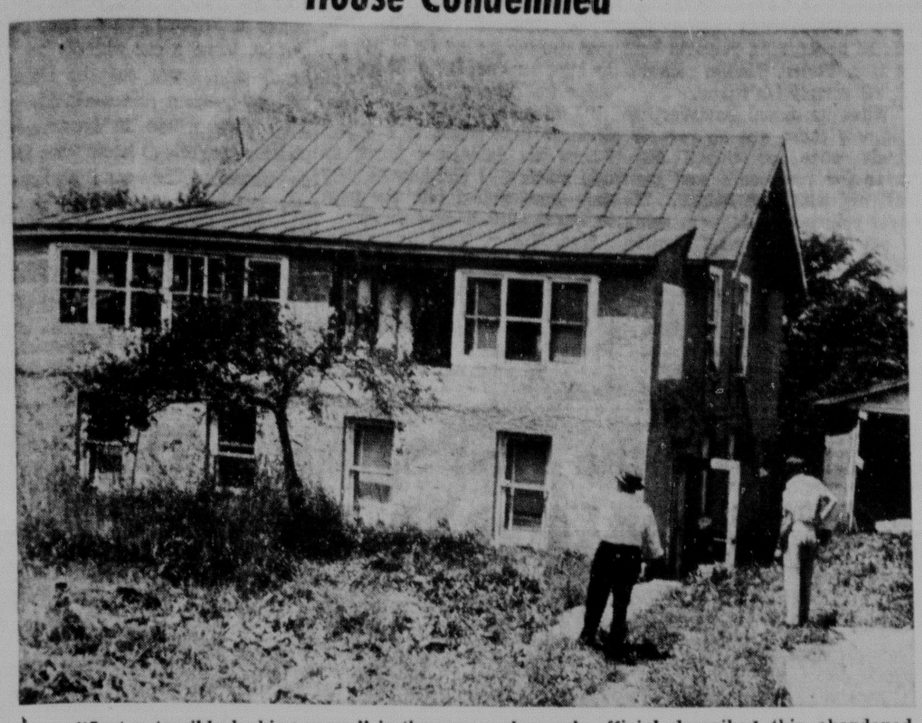
House Condemned



"Just a terrible looking mess," is the way a borough official described this abondoned building at 963 Logan street, which was condemned Thursday and will be demolished.

Building inspector and Fire marshal Lewis J. Kirby, left, points to the second floor of the house, where the window frames have been knocked out, and ravaged partitions inside are exposed. With Kirby is Fire Chief Richard Moser, right. George Schwenk, Pottstown RD 1, the owner of the home, moved away ten years ago and rented it with the agreement the tenants would keep the building in repair. The occupants moved out several months ago, leaving the home in this condition. Schwenk took out a permit to have the house and garage demolished. Presently, the structure is in violation of borough building, fire and health codes.

ABC Will Give $250 to Fund

The Pottstown chapter of the American Business club voted to donate $250 to the YWCA improvement fund drive when it met Thursday night at the Elks lodge.

Donald S. Sands, president, was in charge of the meeting attended by 53 persons.

Sands was named a delegate to the national ABC convention along with Joseph L. Bowen and Richard R. Christ. The convention is scheduled for Thursday through Saturday of next week at Springfield, Ill.

Next Thursday's meeting was canceled to permit members to attend a night baseball game between the Phillies and Chicago Cubs at Connie Mack stadium, Philadelphia.

Oppenheimer Gives Grim View of War

BERLIN (AP) — If the world plunges into nuclear war, there won't be enough survivors to bury the dead, American physicist J. Robert Oppenheimer said Thursday.

Speaking at the opening session of the general conference of the Congress for Cultural Freedom, Oppenheimer said: "The destructive power of atomic stockpiles has increased far more than a hundredfold—how much more it may be neither permissible nor relevant to tell. The new means of delivery and use have made of the command and control of these weapon systems a nightmare fully known only to those responsible.

"What some of us know, and some of our governments have recognized, all people should know and every great government understand: If this next great war occurs, none of us can count on having enough living to bury our dead."

More than 250 prominent political leaders, scientists and writers from 50 Western countries are attending the week-long conference.

Three Men Hurt In Area Crash

Three area men were injured on Route 100 near Pughtown Thursday afternoon when their truck veered out of control and overturned.

Taken to Memorial hospital in a Goodwill ambulance were Richard Nesley, Harold Thomas and James Fichthorn, all of Pottstown RD 2.

Nesley and Thomas were admitted shortly before 4 p. m. Nesley suffered extensive brush burns of the face and he may have a fractured skull. Thomas had injuries of the neck, right shoulder and right hip and a scalp cut. Both were reported in fair condition Thursday night.

Fichthorn was released after treatment for cuts and bruises of the forehead, right arm and right elbow.

Nesley was the driver of the truck.

State police at the Thorndale barracks investigated.

DANIEL BOONE BOARD FAILS TO PICK SITE

Two Locations for New School Proposed

Thirty persons who turned out for Thursday night's meeting of the Daniel Boone Joint School board were disappointed when the board failed to report any progress in the selection of a site for the proposed new high school.

Raymond Elliott, director of the joint board, noted that it is "imperative" that a decision on the site be made soon.

Two sites have been proposed. One is in Amity township on the Schmale farm. The other is just east of the Maple Shade swimming pool in Union township.

Elliott reminded the group that it will be at least two years before the new building can be completed. Meanwhile, he said, the school system already has about 240 more pupils than it can handle adequately.

A SPECIAL meeting is called for June 22 in the Monocacy school in an attempt to make a final site decision.

In other action, the board noted that members of the school band returned from a trip to Washington last month more than three hours late. It was recommended that in the future a strict time limit be observed on trips by all school groups.

It was reported that Ruth Coleman has resigned as an Elementary school teacher.

Sandra Beam was hired to be a secretary in the school office.

CONTRACTS for industrial arts equipment were awarded at a cost of $1650. Also awarded were contracts for physical education equipment at a cost of $1169.15.

M. C. Billett, supervising principal, was authorized to attend an administrator's conference at Pennsylvania State university July 18 and 19.

Stanley Lachowski was authorized to attend a meeting of social studies teachers at Indiana State college Aug. 19, 20 and 21.

The school calendar for the coming year was formally adopted. Classes will start Sept. 7 and end June 8, with a total of 180 school days.

Herman Musser, president, was in charge of the meeting at the Union building in Monocacy.

Senate Passes Omnibus Housing; Bill to Provide Veterans' Homes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Thursday night passed a $11,247,500,000 omnibus housing bill after chopping out 134 million in an effort to make it more acceptable to President Eisenhower.

The bill, which now goes to the House, carries funds for college dormitory loans, slum clearance, and a variety of programs designed to provide homes for veterans and other citizens.

The Senate pushed through the bill after less than three hours of debate, quickly dispositing of one of the major bills to be acted on before final adjournment.

The Senate was in session more than 14 hours today. Earlier it passed a $40,514,897,000 defense money bill and cleared a constitutional amendment permitting District of Columbia citizens to vote for president and vice president.

The House Banking Committee approved Wednesday a $1,365,000,000 omnibus housing bill which is similar in many respects to the one passed by the Senate Thursday night.

The cuts made in the Senate measure on the floor were offered by Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind) speaking for the administration, and accepted by Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala), manager of the bill.

Sparkman insisted, however, he was not tailoring the measure to meet the administration's wishes and added, "as far as I'm concerned, I've heard no veto threats."

Capehart said he believed "this is a satisfactory bill" with the changes made.

Sparkman refused to accept Capehart's proposal to cut 50 million off the 350 million in the bill for urban renewal-slum clearance grants, and this was beaten.

The Senate added to the measure by voice vote one important amendment extending to Feb. 1, 1965, the VA home loan guarantee program for World War II veterans.

Under present law, this program expires July 25 this year; the administration has asked it be allowed to die.

The amendment was sponsored by Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-WVa). The Senate Labor Committee has approved a senate bill making the same extension, but it has not been acted on in the Senate.

MANAGER ANSWERS ALL QUESTIONS

he really had something on Mrs. Yoder. But what he found was two packages (each five pounds) out of five or six hefty cartons of cheese.

"Mrs. Yoder sorted out all those cartons and returned them to the school. The ten pounds found on May 25 just hadn't been returned yet," declared Smillie.

TO QUESTIONS about two sets of accounting records kept by Mrs. Yoder, Smillie remarked, "It simply isn't true.

"What is true, however, is that now there are no records. Moody once questioned Mrs. Yoder for two hours and then took off with her ledger. He never returned it, but I'm going to see that he does," Smillie declared.

Also concerning the ledger, Smillie added, "It was audited regularly. Contrary to some reports the book was fully accurate."

Smillie concluded by saying he discussed the entire case recently with District Attorney Harold Spencer. "Spencer satisfied me by saying he is not out to hurt anyone, but will let the chips fall where they may.

"I intend to speak again with Spencer next week, to see just where his detectives stand on this matter. I don't know why they were pulled into the case to begin with," said Smillie.

Mrs. Yoder, East Greenville, runs cafeteria operations for about 2000 pupils. "As far as I've been able to determine, she is one of very few persons in Pennsylvania to do that and teach classes," remarked Smillie.

TRUSTIES RETURN

PARIS (AP)—Two trusty inmates of Fresnes Prison, aged 26 and 28, found a car with its keys handy and drove out the main gate to freedom this week. They were back within 10 hours explaining they didn't know what to do outside. The warden happily welcomed them home saying, "It wasn't an escape—just an escapade."

OLEY BOARD GIVES OKAY TO BUDGET

Two Mill Boost In Taxes Is Expected

TOTAL INCREASED BY $41,213

A sharp hike in the Oley school budget will cause just a two mill boost in taxes.

The board's newest list of expenditures is a record high $236,346. The figure is $41,213 higher than last year.

The increase results from rental payments that will come next year for a new Oley Valley High school.

Bonds bids for the school will be received Wednesday from the Ira H. Haupt company, N. Y. Construction costs will be $2,020,000.

THE REASON Oley school board can meet its share of bond and construction costs by raising taxes just two mills stems from a postponement in the project.

Construction was originally slated for last March, but sewer problems forestalled the whole project. The school board, in the meantime, collected taxes to meet early construction costs.

That backlog of revenues now will keep school taxes to 27 mills, one of the lowest figures for any Berks community entering construction work.

The board will retain at the same levels its $5 per capita tax; its $5 personal tax and its 1 percent real estate transfer levy.

Ruth S. Knabb was reappointed to a second term as tax collector in Oley, and newly named as school board treasurer was Leon R. Sittler. Frank S. Fisher, board president, was in charge of the Wednesday meeting.

Local Trucker Fined and Jailed For Violation

A Pottstown truck driver, who admitted he drove a car before his suspended license was returned to him, thinking that the purchase of insurance was sufficient to permit it, was fined $200 and sentenced to serve two months after pleading guilty yesterday.

Harry Fizz, of the 500 block Kenneth avenue, told Judge William Dannehower he obtained the insurance on Jan. 19 and was arrested by Pottstown Patrolman Lloyd Meyers, on High street, Pottstown, while driving his car on Jan. 25.

Meyers testified, however, that Fizz had admitted to him after the arrest that he had driven a truck on previous occasions during the suspension period, although he was not arrested at these times.

Judge Dannehower, after observing Fizz had a series of Vehicle Code violations during the last eight years, said the charge of driving during suspension actually was a third offense.

He provided, however, that if the fine and costs are paid the prison term will be reduced to 30 days.

U. S. Embassy Attaches Ordered Out of Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba Thursday ordered two U.S. Embassy attaches to leave the country within 24 hours for "gravely affecting the national sovereignty of Cuba by interfering in its internal affairs." U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal protested the order, the first against a U.S. Embassy official here since Prime Minister Fidel Castro took over Cuba Jan. 1, 1959.

FIDEL CASTRO

Named were Edwin L. Sweet of Abilene, Tex., and William G. Friedemann of Stillwater, Okla., both assistant legal attaches at the embassy. They were held 2½ hours Wednesday night on charges of "conspiring with counterrevolutionists."

They were freed after a severe tongue-lashing by Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro, it was reported. There also were reports Cuban agents seized and searched Friedemann by force after he refused to permit a search. Sweet, the 6-foot-2 Texan, also refused to permit his captors to search him and it was understood they did not. It was presumed the U.S. Embassy would immediately transfer Sweet and Friedemann out of Cuba.

Cuban officials said both Americans were seized by agents of Raul Castro's military intelligence while they met with a group of Cubans.

Without awaiting formal notification from the Cuban government, Bonsal fired off a protest to the Foreign Ministry against "the unwarranted action" of Cuban officials in detaining the two in view of their diplomatic status.

The first announcement of the arrests was made by the semi-official newspaper Revolucion which said the two Americans had "flagrantly violated the sovereignty and laws of Cuba" by meeting clandestinely with counterrevolutionists.

Embassy officials said Sweet and Friedemann were visiting some Cubans when they were seized.

The embassy was informed of the arrest shortly before midnight. But by the time Revolucion appeared Thursday with details of the case, including photographs of the two men and of their diplomatic passports, no official information had been received from the Cuban Foreign Ministry, an embassy spokesman said.

Neither Revolucion nor military officials indicated how many Cubans were detained with Sweet and Friedemann, nor the charges against the Cubans.

Castro Supervises Unloading of Arms

HAVANA (AP) — A European diplomat reported Thursday that a West German ship, the Marie Neuvel—unlisted in Lloyd's—unloaded 60 tons of arms and ammunition here Wednesday.

The diplomat said Prime Minister Fidel Castro and his brother Raul, armed forces minister, personally supervised the unloading. The arms are believed to be of Belgian origin, the diplomat said, adding that another 400 tons of arms are expected soon.

The vessel then went to Miami and left a similar shipment of arms there, the diplomat said.

YELLOW RAIN EXPLAINED

MOSCOW (AP) — Izvestia, the government newspaper, quotes scientific evidence to assure people of the Georgian Republic the bright yellow rains that stain their houses, trees and vehicles are nonatomic and harmless. It says the rains are hued by drift from Mideast dust storms, as were yellow—and even red—snows last winter.

Ship On Mission

The Japanese four-masted training ship Nippon Maru sails majestically into New York harbor for a two-day visit. Carrying 87 naval cadets plus the crew, the vessel will participate tomorrow, in recreating the visit to New York of the first Japanese mission in 1860.

Senate Passes Bill For Defense Higher Than Ike's Request

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Thursday night passed a $40,514,897,000 defense money bill which its Democratic leader said will enable the next president to act from strength in dealing with the Russians.

The roll-call vote was 85-0.

The measure topped President Eisenhower's recommendations by about 1¼ billion dollars and the House's total by more than a billion dollars.

Before shipping the bill back to the House, the Senate adopted a compromise amendment tacking on 90 million dollars to speed modernization of the Army's fighting gear.

It also put in another 40 million dollars to increase the Marine Corps by 25,000 men to a strength of 200,000.

The Senate measure incorporates hundreds of millions of dollars the House added to administration requests to build a missile-firing submarine fleet faster, to provide more planes for airlifting troops and weapons to trouble spots, and to keep the Army National Guard and reserve up to strength.

It also includes hundreds of millions of dollars the House refused for a new supercarrier, for developing a 2,000-mile-an-hour B70 bomber and for buying the controversial Bomarc antiaircraft missile.

And with U2 spy plane operations halted, the Senate voted 84 million dollars more to rush the spy-in-the-sky Samos satellite toward operational use. Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss) said the extra money will speed the reconnaissance satellite's development by a year.

Urging approval of the bill, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told his colleagues "our next president will be in a position to act from strength if we provide him with the additional resources" called for in the measure.

Johnson — a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination—said Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "would not have felt so free to abuse our President if he had had more respect for our future military strength."

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), chairman of an appropriation subcommittee which drafted the defense measure, called it "a strong peace bill."

As it left the Senate, the bill provided about 9½ billion for the Army, some $12,200,000,000 for the Navy, $17,400,000,000 for the Air Force and $1,200,000,000 for the Office of the Secretary of Defense.

The House made major changes in the administration's program without adding much to the total. Differences between Senate and House versions will have to be compromised before Congress sends Eisenhower the measure to pay for military preparedness in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Disposing of the biggest of all money bills in a day's work, the Senate adopted without a fight all the recommendations of its Appropriations Committee.

Elmo Smith Trial Change Directed By County Court

NORRISTOWN, (AP)—The Montgomerty County court ruled Thursday that the trial of Elmo Smith for the murder of a 16 year old school girl should be held elsewhere than in Montgomery or seven nearby counties.

The three judge court left the decision as to where Smith should be tried up to the State Supreme Court. Attaches in the high court said this was the first time in more than 20 years a lower court failed to make such a decision itself.

Smith, accused of murdering Maryann Mitchell, of Philadelphia, last Dec. 28, petitioned for the change of venue last Friday.

The Court ruled that publicity about the crime was "of such a sensational and provocative nature as to arouse in Montgomery and adjoining counties such undue excitement and prejudice against him that he cannot obtain a fair trial in these counties."

Montgomery County President Judge William F. Dannehower and Associate Judge E. Arnold Forrest and David E. Groshens ruled out eight counties: Bucks, Berks, Chester, Delaware, Lancaster, Lehigh, Montgomery and Philadadelphia.

The opinion directed all records in the case be sent to the Supreme court, including newspaper accounts of the killing, the hunt for the killer, Smith's arrest and what police alleged to be his confession. A Supreme Court spokesman said it would be at least "a couple of days" before the decision will be announced.

Nationalist China Considers Chance Of Red Barrage

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) —Nationalist Chinese officials watched apprehensively Friday to see if Red China would time an artillery attack on Quemoy with President Eisenhower's visit to Formosa. The president arrives here Saturday after a voyage up the South China Sea from the Philippines in the cruiser St. Paul.

There was general belief here that a major attack against the China shore island—across a 100-mile strait from Formosa—would be a propaganda mistake by the Communists. But there was no sign whether the Reds would be content to let the events that led to cancellation of Eisenhower's Japan visit stand alone.

Both Chinese and American observers in the Nationalist China capital believe an attack on Quemoy at this time would detract from the propaganda value the Communists are getting from events in Tokyo. But the Taipei government is not ruling out such a move.

If the Communists should stage a major bombardment of Quemoy it would be largely a waste of ammunition. Since the tiny bastion underwent 44 days of intense attack in the fall of 1958 the island has gone almost completely underground. Gun emplacements and defense positions are dug into mountains in largely solid rock. Hundreds of new air raid shelters have been built.

An American military officer just back from Quemoy said a major barrage would be a nuisance but not effective.

Since the severe 1958 shellings, the Chinese Reds have carried out sporadic bombardment of Quemoy.

Switch for Soviet Spy Proposed By Father of Captured U2 Pilot

NEW YORK (AP)—An attorney said Thursday Oliver Powers, father of the U2 spy plane pilot downed in the Soviet Union, has proposed that his son be returned to this country in exchange for convicted Soviet spy Rudolf I. Abel.

Attorney James B. Donovan, who represents Abel, said Powers wrote the Soviet spy in an Atlanta prison June 2 and offered to approach the State Department and President Eisenhower on the exchange proposal.

In return, Donovan told a reporter, Powers asked Abel to communicate with the Soviet Union toward the same end.

Donovan said Abel replied to Powers in a letter June 12 that he should address his request to Abel's family in East Germany.

The attorney said Abel also replied that he could not communicate directly with the Soviet Union.

Donovan said Abel had turned over the correspondence to him and suggested that he meet an East German lawyer in Switzerland to discuss the matter.

Donovan said he plans to leave Friday by ship for England and Switzerland, but he said he had planned the trip several months before the Abel-Powers exchange proposal was made.

Abel, 59, was convicted of espionage in 1957 and is now serving a 30-year prison sentence. The U.S. Supreme Court upheld the conviction March 28.

Oliver Powers, a shoemaker who lives in Pound, Va., has been granted authority by both the United States and the Soviet Union to visit his son, Francis G. Powers, in Moscow. He has not announced when he will make the trip.

Abel posed as an artist in Brooklyn and set up in his studio radio receivers capable of picking up messages from Moscow. He was convicted of conspiring to steal U.S. military secrets and send them to the Kremlin.

Ike Goes to Formosa

Fighter Planes Provide Constant Air Protection

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER (AP)—Under a near-wartime alert, President Eisenhower sailed toward Formosa Friday after an affectionate farewell from the Philippines.

In a light tropical rain, he said goodby Thursday night to "a friendly government and a friendly people."

He said nothing of the decision to cancel his trip to Japan, but he was clearly unhappy about it.

Wearied by the wild and happy Manila reception, he boarded a Navy launch just before midnight and rode out to the cruiser St. Paul, anchored in Manila Bay. The vessel, flagship of the 7th Fleet, is due at the Nationalist Chinese bastion of Formosa Saturday.

The voyage brings Eisenhower within about 100 miles of the Red China mainland.

The fighter planes from the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga are flying constant air cover. The entire 7th Fleet is on alert against any moves by Communist China, which has made several military threats against Nationalist outposts near the mainland and poured out constant abuse of Eisenhower's Far Eastern visit.

Although Eisenhower was personally silent on the riots in Tokyo that forced cancellation of his trip to Japan, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower blamed the violence on "a small, organized minority led by professional Communist agitators."

Even before the President left Washington, some advisers had counseled him to avoid Japan, but the President insisted on going. He hoped the trip would prove that democratic leaders—whether Japanese or American—would not bow to mob pressure.

U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II reported from Tokyo that Japanese leftists would not dare to attempt violence against Eisenhower, especially if he was accompanied by Emperor Hirohito on the way from the airport.

But security officials doubted this more and more as the rioting grew more violent in Tokyo.

They were the most relieved members of his party when news of the cancellation arrived.

Before leaving Manila, the President bound the United States closer to Philippine defense by pledging U.S. troops would come to the instant aid of that island nation in case of attack.

This represented a diplomatic success capping his personal triumph in Manila. Philippine officials, who want U.S. defense pledges in black and white, were delighted. One said: "This makes our cups brim over."

Eisenhower spent the last afternoon hours of his 2½-day visit at a rally of more than 100,000 cheering Filipinos in Luneta Park. From a grandstand near the shores of Manila Bay, he watched a parade of Filipino troops, some of them veterans he helped train in the 1930s as an Army officer in the islands.

His face ruddy after two days under the Manila sun, he appeared relaxed. He sat with President Carlos P. Garcia of the Philippines under an oval roof shading the sun. The grandstand was the same one occupied by U.S. and Filipino officials on July 4, 1946, when the United States granted independence to the Philippines.

The crowd laughed appreciately every time Eisenhower smiled or joked with Garcia. They cheered when he craned his neck to follow a high-flying jet.

In his speech, Eisenhower promised that the United States "shall never close the door to peaceful negotiations" with Communist nations.

But in a clear reference to the collapse of the Paris summit conference, he said: "Communist intransigency at the conference table, whenever they do agree to sit at one, makes the attainment of an equitable agreement difficult. Moreover, the record of Communist violations is long. The continuation of Communist provocations, subversion and terrorism while negotiations are under way serves only to confound the difficulty of arriving at peaceful settlements."

As soon as Eisenhower sat down, two aides, Hagerty and Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, leaned over his shoulder and engaged him in earnest conversation.

They told him the Japanese government had advised it would be unwise to proceed to Tokyo. The President's face turned serious.

Defense Secretary Worried About Treaty

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates said Thursday that the situation involving the U.S.-Japan treaty is "extremely disturbing."

The defense chief, who came here for an annual conference with military and civilian leaders, made that comment in answer to newsmen's questions about the possibility that leftist turmoil might prevent final Japanese ratification of the new security treaty.

"I think it is very important to get the treaty ratified," Gates said.

He added he was pleased that the U.S. Senate seemed virtually unanimous in favor of ratification.

Gates' brief talk with reporters came as he arrived for the opening of the annual "secretaries conference."

The conference this year is faced with the possibility that events in Japan could compel recasting of American defense strategy in that part of the world.

More Demonstrations Threatened in Japan

TOKYO (AP) —Communist-led demonstrators who forced the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit massed Friday for another show of strength against Premier Nobusuke Kishi's government.

Radical student leaders and union members said they would send 30,000 to 140,000 demonstrators marching on Parliament and Kishi's official and private residences during the day.

They said 300,000 demonstrators would be called out Saturday.

Fear spread that Japan was being swept toward a deepening revolutionary chasm.

The nation's seven major newspapers issued a joint statement saying, "Never have we become so concerned over the future of Japan."

Despite Drifting Tendencies Market Maintains Direction

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market is maintaining its pep and direction despite drifting tendencies which have prevailed all week, an analyst said Thursday.

Although the Dow Jones industrial and rail averages haven't made a new intraday high since June 9, L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. feels that the improved tone so evident in last week's rally continues.

"The imaginative factor is still vigorous," he said. "This is indicated by the continuing demand for adventuresome stocks like Universal Match, American Photocopy, Brunswick, General Precision and Transitron.

"At the same time the demand for more conservative stocks is illustrated by the rise in H. J. Heintz, United Shoe Machinery, American Cyanamid, Dayton Power & Light, Singer Manufacturing and Diamond National.

Hooper finds investors and traders "exceedingly choosy, even if they seem to feel better on balance."

The fall business skies are not cloudless but most of the evidence points to a healthy pickup following a midsummer lull, observes Schroeder Boulton of Goodbody & Co.

He cites lagging housing starts and a million-car inventory in the auto industry as notable weak spots.

"The factor of easy money, and all that it implies as a business-lifting force for next fall, is finding support," he said, "in a probable sharp upturn in steel output late in the third quarter, a relatively satisfactory settlement of railroad wage negotiations, a probable increase of one billion dollars or more in defense expenditures and the favorable level of employment."

As for the stock market, Boulton says that profit-taking after so sharp an advance was inevitable and a further period of consolidation may be necessary before the market furnishes a clue to its next important move.

He expects the industrial average to reach new highs especially if confidence increases during the presidential campaign.

A. M. Kidder & Co. belies a general corrective setback at this point would do the market more good than harm.

But the brokerage firm says it holds to the opinion that the basic trend will be upward for some weeks to come, adding:

"Possible selling should be absorbed well above the 632-636 area on the industrial average and it is probable that the news would have to be pretty bad to put the industrials under this strong defense level."

REAL ESTATE, PER CAPITA TAXES HIKED

Washington Schoolmen Okay $148,810 Budget

BALLY—Miss Sarah M. Gehman, Corr. Phone TI 5-2587, Tobias J. Minner Del., Phone TI 5-2551.

Washington Township School board adopted a budget of $148,810. This represents an increase of $19,360 over last year's budget.

To help meet the budget the Board: Raised the real estate tax from 31 mills to 35 mills; passed a real estate transfer tax of 2 percent, and renewed the $5 per capita tax.

Mrs. Minnie Hurley, county recorder of deeds, was appointed collector for the new transfer tax.

The board hired Dreslin and Company, Pottstown, a public accounting firm to conduct the district's annual audit.

IT DISCUSSED with Architect Elmer Adams the possibility of making the proposed Washington Township Elementary school a nine room building.

The new school to be located near Bally along route 100 was originally planned as a seven room structure.

The Board also renewed its contract with Quigley Bus service of Bally for three years at a rate of $77.50 per school day.

WELL-INTENTIONED

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Advice can come from unexpected sources. Bill Judkins returned home from a convention, parked his car and went indoors to kiss his wife. Then he went back out for his luggage. As he was about to re-enter the house, he heard an urgent "Ps-s-s-t!" A stranger delivering handbills said, "Hey, buddy. Better wipe that lipstick off your cheek before you go in."

STEELWORKERS SEEK 4 DAY WORK WEEK

Automation Blamed By McDonald In Speech

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — President David J. McDonald said Thursday his United Steelworkers Union would seek a new fair labor standards law embracing a four-day week with no loss of pay.

And, McDonald declared in a speech at the 22nd annual convention of the Communications Workers of America, if the next Congress does not act promptly on the proposal the USW "will have no alternative but to press for the four-day week in our next contract negotiations."

McDonald said the shorter work week is needed to help meet the challenge of automation.

"The idea is neither radical nor impossible," he said. "Certainly questions will be posed but the same questions were posed in the 30s and were mastered. The 40-hour week came into being some 27 years ago in the face of the most critical depression this nation has ever faced.

"The 40-hour week served in the 30s but the laws that fit then no longer are adequate for the 1960s."

McDonald said his union believes the quickest way to achieve the four-day week for "all workers in all industries" is by legislation in the next Congress.

This year, "a political year, is an appropriate time to demand action on such a critical domestic issue," he said.

McDonald told his audience, "Political promises will not be enough."

"We can and must demand performance in kind," he added.

The head of one of the nation's most powerful unions said a shorter work week in itself is not enough to meet the challenge of automation. He said there were many fields where human wants are unsatisfied and great needs exist such as housing, hospital facilities, schools, roads and transportation.

"Admittedly public funds are needed to tackle such projects," McDonald said. "And then we are told we cannot afford it. Public expenditure, we are told, is inflationary.

"This is a rehash of the same old mish-mash put out by obstructionists for centuries.

"If we hope to adapt our nation to the age of automation this Model "T" concept must be eliminated. Expanded economic activity creates taxes. People working pay taxes. Companies that produce pay taxes. The higher the degree of economic activity, the more tax revenue."

McDonald described automation as "a great boon to mankind," but he said it creates and contributes monumental problems. He said devices on the planning board could conceivably reduce America's work force from 70 to 10 million persons.

"Despite rosy profit reports by the basic steel industry," McDonald said, "the army of idled steelworkers forced to live on subsistence level off jobless pay and supplemental unemployment compensation has gained steadily during the past few months.

"Unfortunately, thus far leaders of government largely do not even acknowledge the existence of this great domestic problem — unemployment. Or when it is brought to their attention, they tend to deprecate it."

President's Arrival In Hawaii Uncertain

HONOLULU (AP)—The governor's office announced Thursday that President Eisenhower would arrive Sunday in Hawaii but an hour later a spokesman said, "The message may have been in error."

"The President's arrival is indefinite at this point," the spokesman added.

To that Hugh Lytle, press secretary to Gov. William F. Quinn, added: "We don't know whether the President is coming in Sunday or not. We don't know where the message came from."

Earlier, in announcing that Eisenhower would arrive Sunday, instead of next Wednesday as previously scheduled, Lytle had said the word came in a radio message from the presidential party.

MR. AND MRS. CARL RICHARD HOFFMAN

Carl R. Hoffman, Lorraine A. Danforth Wed in Church of the Good Shepherd

The Church of the Good Shepherd, Boyertown, was scene of the marriage of Lorraine Ann Danforth and Carl Richard Hoffman.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Danforth, reside at East Brownfield, Maine. Mr. and Mrs. Russel W. Hoffman, parents of the bridegroom, live at New Berlinville.

The Rev. Harper Schenck, performed the candlelight service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of tissue bouquet taffeta frosted with chantilly lace. The lace also bordered a full skirt which swept into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of pink and white roses.

Peggy L. Danforth, East Brownfield, was matron of honor for her sister. Mrs. Fern Marcks, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Flower girl was Emma Helen Meserve, cousin of the bride.

All three attendants wore matching silk organza print dresses with rose colored hats. Miss Danforth and Mrs. Marcks carried bouquets of green and white majestic daisies. The flower girl carried a basket of roses with lilies of the valley.

E. Henry Roberts, cousin of the bridegroom, New Berlinville, was best man. Usher was Robert A. Hoffman, brother of the bridegroom, New Berlinville.

Taffy Toppings Taste Good and Give Energy to Summer Wilted Youngsters

Do you find that the perpetual motion that is your child on vacation has a tendency to slow down a bit as Summer heat takes its toll?

Try using unsulphered molasses for milk shakes and sundaes. The high-quality syrup gives a rich golden color, and taffey like sweetness to milk and ice cream. More important, it is rich in iron and a source of quick and continuing energy.

If you're of a mind to have a butterscotch sauce, the molasses can be combined with sugar, butter, and evaporated milk. Or, honey and molasses may be blended for a praline sauce.

TAFFEY FLOAT

1 tablespoon unsluphered molasses milk
1 scoop vanilla, coffee or chocolate ice cream

Put molasses in 12-ounce glass; fill half full with milk. Add ice cream; stir vigorously. Fill glass to top with milk.

TROPICAL SUNDAE

Pour unsulphered molasses over vanilla ice cream. Serve plain or with chopped nuts, flaked coconut, crushed pineapple or chopped maraschino cherries.

MOLASSES BUTTERSCOTCH SUNDAE

½ cup unsulphered molasses
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ teaspoon vanilla
⅓ cup evaporated milk

Combine molasses, sugar, salt and water in a saucepan. Cook for ten minutes or until candy thermometer registers 230 degrees, or when a small amount of syrup dropped in very cold water forms a soft ball. Add butter and vanilla. Cool slightly; stir in evaporated milk. Pour over ice cream. If desired top with nuts and whipped cream. On storage, if sauce becomes too thick, thin with small amount of water or evaporated milk.

TAFFEY HONEY SAUCE

½ cup unsulphered molasses
½ cup honey

Blend together and spoon over ice cream. For a praline touch, top with pecan halves.

TAFFEY BANANA MILK SHAKE

1 fully ripened banana
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon unsulphered molasses
dash of salt

Mash banana until creamy and smooth. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well, serve immediately. Yield, one serving.

"A TALKING ROSE"

The weather is here for all us Roses to be molested by red spiders (mites). The insects can be very damaging and can multiply into millions in a few weeks. "Mites" cause leaves of your Rose plants to turn yellow and drop off in increasing numbers. Don't be alarmed with a few unwanted leaves which tend to yellow and drop as new growth appears, but prepare for mites in increasing numbers as hot weather continues.

The insects will appear underneath the leaves and generally work from the bottom of plant towards the top. It takes a keen, experienced eye, or magnifying glass to detect "mites". Control can be had with a "Mitecide Spray" or 50% Malathion spray. Also spray now for blackspot using your favorite fungicide as the wet weather will cause spores to develop very quickly.

Thanks to all for making HELEN HAWS ROSE GARDENS, "5th Anniversary Celebration and Rose Show, such a great success.

Milk Witness Says Gallon Jug Increases Sales

Counsel for Country Maid dairies Thursday drew from a representative of a large dairy firm an admission that where gallon jugs of milk were sold 10 percent or more below the price of four quarts of milk, a 3 to 4 percent increase in milk consumption was noted.

A. J. Nixon of Sealtest, a division of National Dairy Products corporation, was the day's only individual appearing before the Pennsylvania Milk Control commission in Philadelphia. The commission is considering a request by Country Maid, a Delaware corporation, to set a price on gallon jugs of milk. Sale of such containers is now prohibited in the State.

Nixon read a statement which he said contained information gathered for studies of milk merchandising.

Attorney Harold Kohn, counsel for Country Maid, tried to show that statements from some of the studies contradicted statements from others. Kohn objected that he could not cross examine Nixon properly because Nixon's testimony consisted solely of a statement.

NIXON TOLD the commission that where gallon jugs of milk were permitted to be sold, price wars often broke out. Kohn countered with an argument that only the big eight nationwide dairies were in a position to meet opposition in price wars and thus this was no argument again permitting Country Maid to sell the jugs.

Nixon also argued that in areas where jugs were sold, the public accepted the price differential but did not happily accept the container itself.

Nixon was scheduled to continue testimony today.

Pupils to Start Vacation, Work Faces Officials

Pottstown public school pupils will attend their last class today and for many it will begin a three-month vacation. But for school administrators, this will be busiest time of the year.

New books ordered, additional supplies, Fall schedules and getting the schools generally back into shape after nine months of classes are all part of the Summer work for the bosses.

Stanley I. Davenport Jr., principal of Pottstown High school said he always has more work to do during the Summer months because of the extra work.

With one secretary and one clerk, Davenport, before school begins in September, must revise a 61 page teacher handbook which includes changing the schedule of activities and classes and any changes to rules and regulations.

A SCHEDULE for each pupil and requisitions for books and general supplies must be made. A make up examination for pupils that have failed during the year will be conducted by Davenport Aug. 11.

"Besides the added work I still must answer all the correspondence and make all the transcripts, Davenport said.

Havard E. Fosnocht, superintendent of Pottstown schools, will begin jobs that can only be done during the Summer. One of the jobs is to interview and employ teachers.

"We now have three vacancies but teachers resign any time during the Summer so that job is indefinite now.

"Another job is scheduling to make sure all the pupils have a seat and there's a teacher for each class, he said.

SUPPLIES LIKE paper, pencils, ink and books — the little thought of necessary things that are a big job to keep on hand must all be ordered and distributed during the Summer months.

"Supplies have already started to come in. We receive all the general supplies and distribute them to the elementary schools. Books are delivered direct to the senior and junior high schools, however, but this office delivers them to the elementary schools, Fosnocht said.

Custodial duties are also heavier Fosnocht said. "We get all the custodians together in one gang in the Summer and move them from one building to another in a group. They have the job of cleaning and reconditioning the buildings," he said.

Fosnocht added that a big job this year will be the converting of the St. Clair school's heating system from coal to oil. Another will be removing the wood from three basement rooms in the junior high school, repairing the cement and putting down asbestos tile floors.

Teachers, on the other hand, finish their work today. "We have no more claim on them until school begins. Elementary principals work ten months and will be free June 30. The junior high and senior high principal works 11 months.

All principals must summarize achievement tests and attendance reports, make up requests for supplies and make assignments for each child.

So as pupils roll up their sleeves for the Summer tan, school administrators must roll up their sleeves and get down to additional work.

Local Man Arrested, Jailed Without Bond

John L. Sprague, 46, of 173 North Hanover street, was arrested Thursday at 4:21 p. m. in his home and locked up without bail in the borough jail.

He is charged with assault with intent to ravish.

According to Lower Pottsgrove Township Police Chief Harry Chrusch, the incident that led to Sprague's arrest happened the past Sunday and involved a nine year old girl.

Chief Chrusch made the arrest.

Sprague will receive a hearing before Justice of the Peace Earl Strange today, and will be transferred to the county prison at Norristown.

SWIMMING WEATHER AHEAD—The long range weather outlook for the Pottstown area is optimistic, if you have no gripe with warm weather. Maps released by the U.S. Weather bureau show Pottstown in a belt of near normal rainfall (top) and above normal temperatures (bottom). These conditions are expected to hold sway for the next 30 days. Rainfall has been well above normal the past 30 days, with temperatures just about average for this time of year.

West Pottsgrove Is Still Looking For Policeman

West Pottsgrove township's police selection committee met to continue interviewing applicants for the chief's job Thursday night, but the successful candidate has not been named.

The township has been without its own policeman since former chief, James V. Guadagno, was relieved of his duties April 30.

Former Pottstown patrolman William Mars, now employed in West Goshen township as a policeman, was selected for the job June 6, but later turned it down.

There are 13 other applicants, all of whom will be screened before the commissioners select their new police officer.

Grab-Bag Bargain

IMPERIAL BEACH, Calif. (AP) —A Navy chief petty officer, whose hobby is making what he calls "grab-bag bids" at public auctions, now has seven volumes of a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica published in 1778.

They were in an old trunk that H. W. Dukes bought unopened. The American Revolutionary War, underway at the time they were published, is not mentioned. Anything about the New World, including New Zealand, is in the chapter on America.

TASTE VARY WITH AGE?

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) —Do you "taste" as well when you're young as you do when you're old?

Researchers at Rutgers university are experimenting with over 200 persons to find out why youngsters refused to eat some things that they may find delicious when older. So far they report "there's a tremendous difference in taste" as any child with a plateful of spinach could tell them.

BURGLARS CAN'T READ?

LAFAYETTE, Colo., (AP) — A department store here has been a pushover for burglars the last two years.

So the store placed a placard on a front glass door. It read: "Robbers, Please Don't Come Back."

The next strike was through that very door.

The expected high temperature today will be 86 and the low this morning was 64. Temperatures during the first half of June averaged three degrees above normal. Rainfall this month also is above normal.

The weekend weather should rid itself of overcast. Tomorrow will turn cool and clear and continue that way on Sunday. The change for the better will start tonight.

Pollock Firm Is Working On Radar System and 185 feet high.

The rush order job began three weeks ago and must be finished by the end of August.

The firm which now is building a defensive bastion against the Reds, started as a junk yard before 1900. Although the firm has had government contracts before, the radar work is a new field of research for the company with just over 100 employes.

A BIGGER chunk of the firm's yearly business comes from erecting bridges.

If you were halted at High and Hanover streets at 7 p.m. Thursday, the short delay was due to a Mayer Pollock shipment.

That order, part of the largest contract this year, was for a bridge near Wilmington, Del. Four beams, up to 140 feet long and 20 tons in weight, were shipped from the plant.

Mayer Pollock is building five of nine bridges at the Farnhurst interchange in Wilmington, at the intersection of Routes 40 and 13. The work will total 1200 tons of steel.

Playground Program is Set In Kenilworth

The Kenilworth playground's Summer season opens Monday morning, with eight weeks of activities ahead for North Coventry township's youth.

Francis M. Wampler Jr., 1138 Schuylkill road, a Pottstown Junior High school teacher and coach, will be the full time playground director.

His assistant will be Patricia Colver, 1133 Worth boulevard. Miss Colver is a Pennsylvania State university student.

Any children who have completed kindergarten, up to 12th grade pupils, may attend the playground, which will close out Summer activities Aug. 12.

TWO NEW outdoor pavilions, to allow the program to continue in rainy weather, are near completion.

The program includes arts and crafts, a baseball school, nature study, rifle instruction and athletics and games of many kinds.

Facilities include two baseball diamonds, various amusements such as swings and sliding boards, a shuffleboard, and 24 acres of playground area.

A six acre lake will be completed for next year, when boating and fishing will be added to the attractions to the youngsters.

The playground has no guaranteed income and no support from taxes; existing on donations. It entered two baseball teams of youngsters into Pottstown leagues this Summer at $5 per boy. The playground also accommodates four Boy Scout troops' activities.

PARENTS CAN HELP

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—Maine social studies teachers are advising parents to hit the road if they want to help their youngsters with history.

The Social Studies Newsletter of the Maine Teachers Assn. suggests that teachers can promote Summer learning by "advertising" nearby historic houses, forts and museums to their pupils.

Children find their history studies have more meaning, the letter says, when they have seen the places where history has been made.

12 PLEDGE DONATIONS TO LOT FUND

received and pledged to date," said Hoffman, "there's little doubt the goal will be reached."

Several other stores and institutions have been solicited which could not commit themselves, but the committee calling on the "pacesetters" has not had a single refusal.

THOSE TO join the fund Thursday — the first day of actual work by the committee—were Ellis Mills, First Federal Savings and Loan association, Burton's, Betty Lee shop, Wolfe's China shop, Weiss Ladies apparel, Royal Shoe store, Tubis Shoe store, the Shoe Corporation of America, Samuel Fuerman (owner of the Pep Boys building), Dr. Grant Rohrbach, and Louis Carlier, a realtor who is part owner of the Lessig tract, the proposed site of one of the lots.

The Lessig tract and a portion of the Reading Railroad company freight yards are hoped to supply more than 300 new off-street spaces for downtown shoppers.

The $50,000 fund has been pledged to the borough by the Chamber to cover any losses during the first ten years of operation of the lots, so that the taxpayers won't have to suffer should the plan fail.

The first three contributors to the fund were the New York store, Levitz Furniture company and Town Toy company.

No banks, chain stores or individuals such as professional people have been contacted by the fund raising committee yet.

But Hoffman said the committee expects a sizeable commitment from such parties. The committee will be enlarged to contact more than 200 potential givers.

Authority Votes Bill Payment

The Montgomery County Housing authority Thursday morning ordered bills totaling $8040.32 paid during a meeting at the North Hill Homes project, Upper Dublin township.

It was reported that during May four families moved out of the authority's projects, four families moved in, and five units were vacant and being reconditioned.

The authority decided to evict two tenants for nonpayment of rent and for harboring lodgers—one in the Penn Village project and one in the North Hill project.

Last year's budget was overrun by $371 dollars for extraordinary maintenance and betterments and additions. Part of the excess was incurred by the purchase of combination storm and screen doors for Penn Village dwellings.

Pottstown contractor William Bernhardt was awarded a contract to replace the roofs of six porch dwellings in Penn Village at a cost of $128.

The authority voted to omit its July and August meetings unless an emergency arises.

Harry Burdan, executive director, was in charge of the meeting.

Committee Rejects Postage Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Post Office Committee refused Thursday to consider Eisenhower administration requests for higher postage rates.

The refusal may have killed the issue for this session of Congress.

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield had asked for 554 million dollars in additional postal revenues. His plan would have raised the price of first-class stamps from the present 4 cents to 5 cents, air mail from 7 to 8 cents and post cards from 3 to 4 cents. Second-and third-class mail also would carry higher charges.

Hurrah for Dad . . . he's a wonderful guy and he deserves a wonderful gift from our terrific collection.

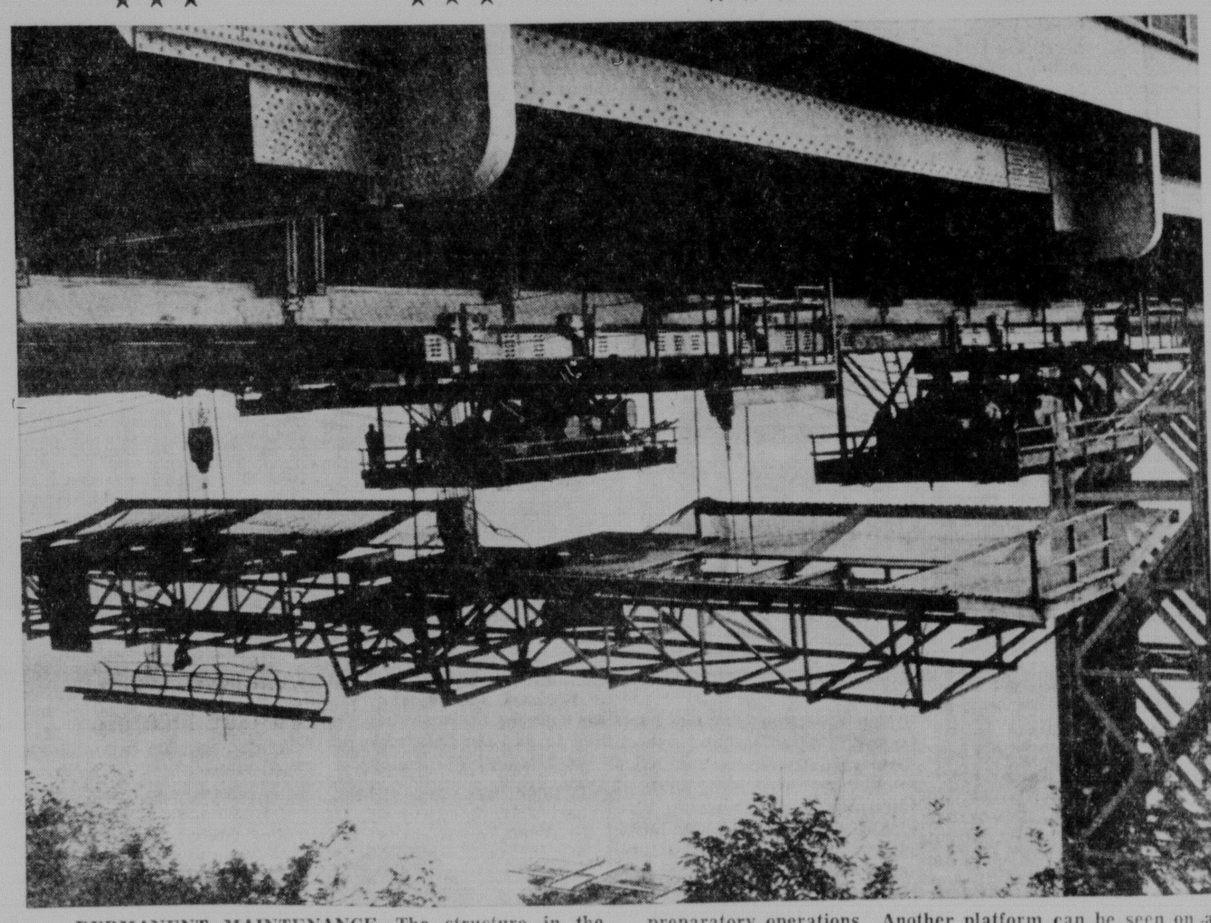
POTTSTOWN PRODUCT—This was the scene on the Hudson river Thursday, preparatory to the lifting into place of the last prefabricated section of roadway which will carry traffic across the George Washington bridge on a second level beneath the original roadway. The bridge, built by Bethlehem Steel company between 1928 and 1931, is a product of Pottstown. All the steelwork—the roadway and two towers—were built here, a.. was the new section of the span. The 62 ton truss assembly, bearing an American flag, was raised over 200 feet from a barge in mid-Hudson to the bridge deck. This last portion was much smaller than the other prebuilt sections.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★



PERMANENT MAINTENANCE—The structure in the foreground is one of the permanent maintenance bridges beneath the George Washington span, altered for temporary use. These provided access and served as working platforms for the Bethlehem crews assigned to the drilling and other preparatory operations. Another platform can be seen on a barge in the Hudson river. Also visible are two hoists mounted on the trolley system. At the top right can be seen the drilled plates which later were bolted to help support one of 76 fabricated bridge sections—220 tons each.

Pottstown Girl Is Attending Church Meeting

Judith Weidner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Weidner, 252 Chestnut street, left Pottstown Thursday to attend an eight day meeting of youth members of the United Church of Christ at Elmhurst college, Elmhurst, Ill.

Miss Weidner, who recently completed her Junior year at Pottstown High school, is a member of Zion's Reformed UCC. She is attending the biennial meeting as an elected representative of the youth cabinet of the Philadelphia synod of the UCC.

She is one of 250 delegates from throughout the United States, representing districts comprised of approximately 8000 churches.

A major task of the meeting will be to study and select programs to be recommended for use in regional, state and local meetings of church youth organizations within the next two years.

Discussions on the nuclear age, alternatives to war, prejudice, human need and freedom are planned along with a dramatic production, a picnic and an outdoor worship service.

The meeting will be attended by more than 1000 UCC youth from the Chicago area.

Two Autos Damaged In Intersection Crash

Two cars were damaged Thursday at 6:40 p. m. in an accident at Beech and Hanover streets.

According to police, the mishap occurred when an auto driven by Frank Brauner, 386 North Hanover street, went through a red light and collided with one operated by Joel W. Weikel, 224½ North Charlotte street. Police said Brauner had been looking at the wrong light.

Motor Patrolman Lorin Leuthold investigated.

Plaque Is Erected To Honor Airman

A plaque in honor of A/2C Harlan Sheetz, airman who was killed last year in an auto accident, was placed in the Birdsboro YMCA.

Mr. Sheetz built and installed a public address system in the "Y". Mrs. Sarah Sheetz, Birdsboro, mother Mr. Sheetz, was present for the erection of the plaque.

Pottstown Steel Links Roadway Across Bridge

ington bridge was not really "complete." Its design provided for a second, lower deck.

THE SIX LANE lower level will increase the annual capacity by 75 percent. During 1959, a total of 38,446,400 vehicles used the eight lane upper bridge.

The 76 structural steel sections have been raised from below without interfering with traffic on the existing span. This is the first time this type of construction has been performed.

Seventy-five huge 220 ton steel deck assemblies, 108 feet wide, 90 feet long and 30 feet deep, were raised from each shore or from barges anchored in the river directly below the bridge.

The first of 19 side span sections was raised in New York on January 19, and the first of 57 over-river sections was lifted into place March 29.

Work has proceeded alternately from both sides of the bridge toward the center. The final section, weighing 62 tons, was 108 feet wide, 69 feet long and 30 feet deep.

IT WAS raised Thursday from a barge below the center of the bridge and fitted into the 60 foot gap between the previously erected sections.

Work will continue on the bridge, and also on a complex of approaches from both sides of the river. Cost of the entire lower level project, including the approaches, will be $183 million.

The lower level is entirely supported through the joining of new stiffening truss members to the existing steel connection plates.

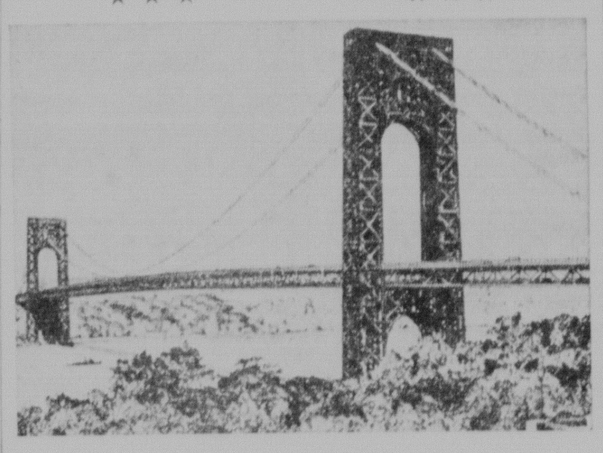
The present structure does not employ stiffening trusses. The bridge depends for its rigidity solely on its tremendous mass and the stiffness of its four 36-inch diameter steel wire cables, the largest ever spun.

To assure perfect fit in the field, Bethlehem's Pottstown works assembled the 60 foot chords end to end and drilled or reamed all the connection holes while so assembled.

Holes in the gusset plates (already part of the bridge) for connection of the new members, were drilled from accurately located metal templets.

Subsequent field work confirmed the care and accuracy taken in the shop work here. All field connections fitted perfectly without any drifting or reaming of the holes.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★



COMPLETED VIEW—This drawing shows the George Washington bridge with the lower deck complete. The six lane traffic deck and construction of necessary approaches cost The Port of New York Authority $180 million. Bethlehem Steel company's Pottstown plant fabricated 17,437 tons of steel for the huge project.

Pottstown's Baby Steelers and the Northern Chester county Judges picked up their second Ches-Mont league Connie Mack wins Thursday night.

The USWA-2326-Post 47-sponsored Baby Steelers posted an easy 16-3 success over Phoenixville's Tigers, while the Judges edged Lower Pottsgrove, 3-2.

The victories were the second for both clubs who are unbeaten and share the league's runner-up slot along with New Hanover.

A big, 10-run fourth made things easy for Steeler pitcher Ron Rohrbach, who stopped the Tigers on two hits.

Bob Reigner outdueled Ron Chryst and Bob Raybold in the Judges' slim triumph.

Spring City 9 Outlasts Downingtown for 2d Win

DOWNINGTOWN — Spring City's Legion Red Sox made it two-for-two in Ches-Mont league activity by outlasting Downingtown, 9-6, here Thursday night.

Winners over Collegeville in their opening league outing, the Red Sox socked two Downingtown chuckers for nine hits and clusters of runs in the second and third innings to keep their record clean.

The Sox picked on loser Jim Price for five runs, driving him to cover in the second, and managed three third-inning runs and a singleton in the fifth off reliefer Bob French.

Jim Stauffer, meanwhile, covered the distance for the Sox to pick up his first win.

THE BURLY righthander allowed six hits and struckout six. He gave up a run in the first and was touched for four in the fourth and another single marker in the fifth.

Jack Williams, Tom Taylor and Gary Ebert led the win with two hits each.

Taylor doubled home two runs in the second and scored on Mark Hennessy's single in the fifth after unloading a booming triple.

Successive singles by Bob Fry, Jack Williams and Rich Brower helped the Sox score three in the third.

Downingtown put together three hits, a hit batsmen, a base-on-balls and a Spring City error to score its quartet of runs in the fifth.

Pete Miller's double to left with the bases loaded was the biggest blow.

Phil Welch Wins Gross Memorial Golf Tournament

Underdog Phil Welch roared from behind Thursday to capture the first annual Stephen Gross Memorial tournament at Brookside country club.

Welch's rally in the second 18-activity of the 36-hole final carried him to a 4 & 3 win over Bob DeLong the tournament favorite.

DeLong made the prognosticators look good during the early play. He earned a 2-up lead after the first five holes and hung onto it through the opening 18.

The advantage vanished rapidly when DeLong lost his putting touch on the second trip around.

Welch, taking advantage of every break, came on strong to win six holes and take a 3-up lead at the 27th.

The match ended at the 33rd green where Welch rolled in a 10-foot par putt after DeLong had carded a bogie.

NINE-RUN 5TH CLINCHES WIN ON SPARE LOT

Reitz Paces Bear Attack With Four Hits; Boyer Wins

Boyertown's Legion Bears fattened up their batting averages at the expense of the hapless Carver post unit of Reading Thursday, taking a 17-2 victory at New Berlinville.

The Bears clinched the victory—called at seven innings because of darkness—with a nine run spree in which they sent 11 batters to the plate in a big fifth inning uprising.

Bob Humma and Jack Barnes bore the brunt of the Bear attack, as they surrendered 15 hits between them, also allowing eight free tickets.

Big Tom Reitz paced the Boyertown attack with four hits in five trips, scoring four runs and driving in two. He had a double and three singles.

THE OUTSIZED Boyertown attack made the victory route easy for Dan Boyer, though he was spelled in the sixth inning by Tom Gottshall, who finished the job.

Boyer surrendered three of the losers' five hits, and was charged with both runs.

The tall righthander served up a three-bagger to Jack Barnes in the third inning, and Barnes romped home when the Bears were caught napping as Virgil Barnes walked.

In the fourth inning he served up a home run pitch to Jeff Ganter for the Carver unit's only runs as the Reading team absorbed its fourth straight league loss.

THE BEARS meanwhile, scored four runs in the first inning on doubles by Carl Houp and Reitz, sandwiched around a walk to Jack Blum and Dick Kauffman's single.

Marty Weiser singled Reitz home.

Another scored in the third on a Reitz single, a fly out, two walks and a ground out.

An outfield bobble opened the gates for thre more runs in the fourth inning. It was aided and abeted by singles off the bats of Blum and Reitz, and a force play.

The win was the fourth in a row for the Bears, who haven't lost since opening day, when they dropped a 2-1 decision at Shillington.

Anderson, Post Swapped to Reds

Gonzalez, Walls Join Phillies

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies and Cincinnati Reds climaxed a month of talks just before last midnight's major league trading deadline with a deal sending the Phillies' Wally Post and Harry Anderson to the Reds for Tony Gonzalez and Lee Walls.

General manager John Quinn said the Phillies also gave the Reds Buffalo first baseman Fred Hopke and will receive a minor league infielder to be named in a week to 10 days.

Cincinnati has not indicated whether it will keep Hopke at Buffalo or transfer him to a Reds' affiliate.

Quinn described the trade as "a continuation of our rebuilding pattern, young ball players who can run, hit, throw and field."

IN THIS connection, Quinn said Gonzalez, 23-year-old Cuban, was the key to the trade in so far as the Phillies were concerned. "He joins such talented young fellows as Tony Curry, John Callison, Ken Walters, Jim Coker, Frank Herrera, Tony Taylor, etc., said Quinn.

"Gonzalez is one of the better young players to come out of the minor leagues last year," Quinn said. "All our scouts report Tony has great potential. He fits into our scheme of things."

Gonzalez started the season with a rash of hits and standout fielding, but of late he has been riding the Cincinnati bench while Jerry Lynch and Walls alternated in right field.

A lefthanded swinger, Gonzalez hit .300 for Havana in the International league last year.

QUINN ALSO pointed out that the 27-year-old Walls, who broke into the majors in 1952 with Pittsburgh, is younger than Post, 31, or Anderson, 28.

He said Walls was a long ball hitter and a better defensive outfielder than Post or Anderson. Walls also has been with the Cubs for whom he had his best year in 1958 with a .304 average, 24 home runs and 72 RBIs. He also can be used at

DODGERS BELT PHILS, 10-6

Howard, Moon 4-Baggers Pave Bums' Way To 5th Place

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wally Moon and Frank Howard slammed a 3-run homer apiece for the Los Angeles Dodgers as they defeated Philadelphia Thursday night 10-6 before 19,573.

The victory moved the Dodgers into fifth place, a half game ahead of Cincinnati.

Moon drove in another run with a sacrifice fly and extended his hitting streak to 12 games, longest this season by a Dodger. In those 12 games Moon has driven in 22 runs.

Left-hander Johnny Podres got the victory, his sixth in 11 decisions. But he needed relief in the eighth when the Phils got him for four runs. Philadelphia got seven hits before the inning was over.

The Dodgers got four runs off loser John Buzhardt (2-5) in the third. Maury Wills scored the first on an infield out after singling, and Moon brought in the other three with his eighth homer.

Los Angeles got four more in the fifth, three of them when Howard hit his sixth homer following singles by Norm Larker and Don Demeter. Moon drove in the first run of the inning with his sacrifice fly.

Pittsburgh Schoolboy Phenom Inks $75,000 Bonus Contract With Tribe

NEW YORK, (AP) — Sam McDowell, 17-year-old pitching sensation from Pittsburgh's Central Catholic high, signed Thursday with the Cleveland Indians for an estimated $75,000 bonus, largest ever paid by that organization.

SAM McDOWELL

The Indians, one of the three clubs of the original 14 bidders sticking to the very end, outbid the New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves for the boy's services.

"It was not necessarily a question of the most money," said Lane.

"The boy signed with us because he liked our approach best. We were the only club to make him a definite and direct offer. Also he knew he would get a quicker opportunity to pitch in the major leagues with us than with any other club.

"We've shown young pitchers have a better chance with us. Just look at our staff which has such youngsters as Gary Bell, Jim Perry, Jim Grant, Dick Stigman and Bobby Locke."

McDOWELL, WHO claims to have hurled 40 no-hitters in his budding career, was supposed to have kept his signing with the Indians a secret until Thursday night when he was to have made the announcement in New York.

A family spokesman in Pittsburgh disclosed the signing hours earlier, however and the Indians confirmed it.

"Yes," McDowell said, "I signed with the Cleveland club but I was not supposed to reveal it until tonight.

"I'm going to Cleveland for the weekend and spend a few days with the Indians. Then I'm going to join the Lakeland club in the Florida State league."

Phils Sign Pair Of Californians

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies Thursday announced the signing of two 18-year-old Californians, one a pitcher, the other a first baseman.

They are Randy Davis, of Hanford, a 6-foot-two left-hander whose record includes a no-hitter for an American Legion team, and Eric Mumma, of Visalia, a six-footer who bats left-handed. As first baseman for Mount Whitney high school in Visalia this past year, Mumma hit .340 and eight home runs.

KANSAS CITY TRIPS YANKS

A's Chalk Up First Win Over New York Since August, '59

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics beat the New York Yankees 9-1 Thursday night, chalking up their first victory over the Bronx Bombers since last August, and their first over Whitey Ford since Aug. 22, 1953, when they were in Philadelphia.

The loss dropped New York a game and a half behind American League-leading Baltimore after the Orioles knocked off Cleveland in the afternoon. Cleveland and the Yanks are tied for second.

The victory was the first over the Yankees in seven games this year. Ford had been 13-0 against the Athletics since they moved to Kansas City.

Hansen HR in 11th Ends Tribe's 8-Day AL Lead

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ron Hansen's 11th inning home run off Barry Latman gave Baltimore a 3-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians Thursday and ended Cleveland's eight-day stay in first place. The birds copped three of the four-game series here.

Jack Fisher held the Indians to seven hits in winning his fifth against four losses and had a 2-0 lead going into the bottom of the ninth. John Romano belted his sixth homer and third of the series, and the Indians scored the tying run on a double by Tito Francona and a pinch single by Chuck Tanner.

Fisher retired three men in order with runners on first and second in the tenth and put the Indians down 1-2-3 in the eleventh.

The Orioles got their first two runs off Ted Bowsfield. A walk and singles by Gus Triandos and Brooks Robinson gave the Birds a run in the fourth inning. They added another in the seventh on Robinson's single and Walt Dropo's double.

Labine, Moryn Dealt Off Before Trade Deadline

By The Associated Press

Pitcher Clem Labine and outfielder Walt Moryn shifted bases of operation just before the trading deadline Wednesday.

Labine, relief ace of the Brooklyn and Los Angeles Dodgers for almost a decade, was swapped to Detroit and Moryn was sold by the Chicago Cubs to St. Louis for an undisclosed amount of cash and one minor league infielder.

Labine had no regrets. "It's all in the game," said the 33 year old righthander. "There's no doubt in my mind whatsoever about whether I can help Detroit."

Moryn, 34, was told of the transaction after he collected three hits in four times at bat against Milwaukee.

In the second part of the deal, the Cubs obtained Jim McKnight, now with Memphis of the Southern association. He was shipped to the Cubs' Houston farm in the American association.

Rain-Provoked Rest Pays Off As Braves Rally for 10-7 Win

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves found their batting form during a 42-minute rain-forced delay and pulled from behind for a 10-7 victory over the Chicago Cubs Thursday in another marathon struggle.

Stung by a three-run Chicago uprising in the fifth and trailing by a 5-3 count when a thunderstorm hit in the bottom of the sixth, the Braves bounced back to provide rookie Ron Piche his first major league triumph.

The downpour struck after Del Crandall singled with one out. After the long wait, Johnny Logan beat out a bunt, Eddie Haas hit a pinch double and Billy Bruton tripled to give Milwaukee a one-run lead. Piche then became the third Milwaukee pitcher. He served up a homer to Don Zimmer leading off the seventh and surrendered a harmless run in the ninth.

Milwaukee snapped the 6-6 deadlock in its half of the seventh on a double by Al Spangler and Logan's third hit, a grounder through the middle. The Chicago strategy of pitching to Logan instead of walking him to bring up Piche backfired. Milwaukee added three insurance runs in the eighth on a single by Red Schoendienst, a walk, Hank Aaron's triple and an infield grounder as Cub rookie Joe Schaffernoth was charged with the loss.

Cats Trip Bosox On Bolling Blow In Overtime, 6-5

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Bolling's 10th-inning single drove in the deciding run Thursday in Detroit's 6-5 victory over Boston. Red Sox slugger Ted Williams sent the game into overtime with his 499th home run.

Bolling's single scored Sandy Amoros from third base. Amoros got a pinch single with one out and moved to third on Eddie Yost's safety to left.

The Red Sox trailed 5-4 with one out in the ninth when Williams drove one of Hank Aguirre's pitches high into the upper right field stands. It was the seventh of the season for the 40-year-old slugger, who drove in another run with a single.

The game-winning hit came after a heavy rain delayed play for 33 minutes as the Tigers came to bat in the 10th. It pinned the loss on Dave Hillman, fifth Boston pitcher.

Mac Shirey and Dale Kirby hooked up in a duel of four-hitters Thursday night, as St. James and Coventryville battled to a scoreless Church league tie in nine innings.

Shirey, on the mound for St. James, walked but one and fanned 12, but had to work out of jams caused by four St. James miscues.

Kirby of the defending champions walked four and struck out eight, and was also in hot water a couple of times, also as a result of errors (5).

The Coventryville infield however, came up with four double plays which helped to ease the pressure.

'Wacky' Day On Cherry Hills Course

Mike Souchak's 68 Good for 1st-Day US Open Lead

DENVER, (AP—Mike Souchak, one-time college football player, hammered his way into the first round lead of the National Open Thursday with a 3-under-par 68 as Tommy Bolt climaxed the whackiest day in U. S. golf by throwing his driver into a lake and being fined $100 for endangering the life of a playing companion.

Souchak got his 68 early in the day before the sun had a chance to bake the greens of the Cherry Hills country club marble hard and protect the 35-36—71 par of the 7004-yard layout that nestles in the foothills of the Rocky mountains.

The select 150-man field was expected to make a shambles of par but as it was only 10 players were able to better regulation figures.

Another seven equalled par. The entire field gets another chance Friday. The low 50 scores make two rounds over the course on Saturday.

A RECORD opening gallery of 13,767 on an ideal golfing day saw Bill Casper, the defending champion and putting fisherman from San Diego, Calif., finish with those deadlocked at 71. Second behind Souchak were two veterans, 44-year-old Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, and 49-year-old Henry Ransom of St. Charles, Ill. Each had a 69.

Bracketed at 70 were Dick Stranahan of Alameda, Calif., Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., Joe Taylor of Charleston, W.V., Gary Player of South Africa, Bruce Crampton of Australia, Don Cherry, the singing amateur from Wichita Falls, Tex., and Jack Fleck of Los Angeles, the surprise winner in 1955.

Grouped at par were Jack Nicklaus, the amateur champion from Columbus, Ohio; Ed Furgol of Export, Pa., the 1954 champ; Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif.; Stan Dudas of North Hills, Pa.; Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Dave Ragan of Orlando, Fla.

Arnold Palmer, the 4-1 tournament favorite, was hurt by a fat six on the first hole and a bogey on the final hole for a 72.

WITH ALL this golf came the weirdest collection of incidents ever. Bolt drove out of bounds on the 11th but still got his par, then drove into the water on the par 3 12th where he was charge with a six. On 18, twice his ball plopped into the lake that bulges into the fairway at the tee. Then he flung the club into the water after the balls.

He got an eight that sent his card to 80 and moments later he withdrew claiming illness because of the high altitude. Later he was fined $100 for club-throwing and endangering the life of Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., with whom he was playing.

Earlier in the day Sanders reached the 18th needing only a par four to tie Souchak for the lead.

Ben Hogan, now 47 and trying desperately for a fifth Open crown, had all kinds of bad putting luck including a three-tap green on 18 that sent his day's total to 75. His hooked drive on No. 9 hit a man in the stomach and the Hawk apparently let the incident unnerve him.

Just as he started to swing, a fish jumped in the lake and the loud splash so unnerved the concentrating Sanders that he almost followed his ball into the drink. He finished with a double bogie six.

"THAT FISH was big enough to be a whale," he said, "I thought for a minute somebody was unloading a truckload of empty beer cans."

Palmer, the Masters champion and the man many think will replace Casper, ballooned to a six on the very first hole when he drove into a ditch. A boy picked his ball out of the ditch that meanders along the right side of the fairway and scurried away.

CHICAGO RIPS WASHINGTON

Four Unearned Runs Help Hose Run Up 10-4 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox parlayed four third-inning unearnd runs into a 10-4 defeat of the Washington Senators before 9,461 chilled fans Thursday night.

The Sox had spent a few hours in fifth place by one percentage point as a result of Detroit's daytime win, but moved ahead of the Tigers with the victory.

Dick Donovan, the second White Sox pitcher, was the winner. Ray Moore (1-2) former White Sox hurler and second Washington pitcher, was the loser.

The Sox outhit Washington 12-6.

Washington struck quickly for two runs in the second when Jim Lemon doubled and scored on Earl Battey's eighth home run.

The Senators drove out Sox starter Frank Baumann in the third when they loaded the bases on Billy Gardner's double and two walks. Dick Donovan replaced Baumann and ended the Washington threat by getting Battey to line to Al Smith.

The White Sox jumped into a 4-2 lead in the third on four unearned runs, sending Chuck Stobbs to the showers.

Al Bensing Reaches Struckmann Final After Eliminating Prince in Sizzler

Regardless of who wins the Struckmann trophy golf tournament on the Brookside country club course, the match is bound to be anticlimactic.

Al Bensing and Ed Ermisch will meet for the top prize of the tournament, having scored semi-final victories over Lee Prince and James Smale respectively.

The Bensing-Prince match however, was the most closely-contested match in several years on the course, a 21-hole thriller, won by Bensing, one-up on a 20 foot putt.

In fact, Bensing stood to lose the match in the regulation 18 holes, except for another long putt.

GOING INTO the 18th he was one down, but birdied the hole with a downhill putt 20 feet to force the overtime.

Long putts seemed to be more the order of the match than the exception, as the pair battled through the regulation 18 holes.

Bensing held a one-up lead after nine holes, but Prince sank a 25 footer on the 10th for a birdie that evened the match.

Bensing then birdied the 11th to go one up again, but Prince came back to win the 14th, then parred the 17th as Bensing took a bogey to take a 1 up lead.

PRINCE LOST his chance to win the match in the regulation 18 when Bensing sank his neat downhill 20 footer.

The two halved the 19th and 20th holes, and Bensing got into an early jam on the 21st when he got off a poor tee shot.

He recovered however, with a neat approach that put him on the green in two, then, faced with another 20 footer, he sank it to claim the match.

After dropping their first three Knee-Hi league tilts, St. John's baseballers entered the win column with a vengeance Thursday night at Memorial park.

The Saints ripped out an 11-3 victory over Transfiguration behind the steady, six-hit flinging of Dave Emery.

Emery limited TAA to a singleton in the second and two runs in the sixth while St. John's racked up four in the first, one in the fourth, another in the sixth and five in the seventh.

Jim Olshefski and Dan Church led the 10-hit attack on two Transfiguration hurlers with three safeties each.

Mike Kirlin, the loser, was knocked from the slab in the first inning and Charles Whittacre worked the last six and and two-thirds frames.

Bucs Complete 3-Game Series Sweep Of Giants on Skinner 4-Run HR 10-7

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lanky Bob Skinner's grand slam homer led hard-hitting Pittsburgh to a 10-7 victory over the San Francisco Giants Thursday that gave the Pirates a four-game National League lead, and a sweep of their three-game series.

The Pirate left fielder's ninth homer, before a crowd of 17,237, came in the fifth inning after Pittsburgh had tied the game 2-all on three singles and an error.

It was the Giants' fourth straight loss, their longest losing streak of the season.

Left-hander Vinegar Bend Mizell won his third game against four setbacks. And it frustrated right-hander Jack Sanford, who was looking for his seventh victory. Sanford instead received his third defeat.

Mizell allowed 13 hits, struck out 9 and walked 4.

The Giants rallied for five ninth-inning runs but Elroy Face put out the fire.

The Pirates left windy Candlestick Park with sweet revenge over the Giants, who had downed Pittsburgh three in a row in the Pirates' last trip here.

Wildness by Mizell accounted for the Giants' two runs in the second. Singles by right fielder Willie Kirkland and third baseman Andre Rodgers plus an intentional walk to catcher Bob Schmidt loaded the bases. Then Mizell walked Sanford, forcing in Kirkland, and Joe Amalfitano, with Rodgers strolling home.

In the fifth, Sanford walked Don Hoak and Bill Mazeroski singled to short center. Mizell bunted and Sanford fumbled it along the third base line.

With the bases loaded, Bill Virdon's sharp single to left drove in Hoak and Mazeroski. Dick Groat beat out a slow roller to third and the bases were loaded again. Then Skinner smashed his 340-foot drive into the crosswind and over the right field fence.

Pittsburgh made it 7-2 in the sixth on a triple by Hoak and a single by Groat.

The Pirates thumped Johnny Antonelli, the Giants' third pitcher, for three more runs in the eighth. Hoak led off with his second consecutive triple and scored when Mazeroski, the next batter, slammed another three-bagger. Virdon walked. Mazeroski scored when Groat bunted past Antonelli for a single. Virdon scored on a single to left by Skinner, his fifth run batted in of the day.

McDaniel Helps Cardinals Edge Cincinnati, 6-5

CINCINNATI (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals almost blew a six-run lead in the seventh inning Thursday night but reliever Lindy McDaniel came to the rescue and the Cards squeezed out 6-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The victory gave the Cards a sweep of the three-game series.

Until starter Ernie Broglio weakened in the seventh, the Reds had only 4 runs and 11 hits in 24 innings off Cards' pitching. In that seventh, however, the Reds rallied for four runs before McDaniel put out the fire.

Cincinnati starter Bob Purkey yielded all six runs. Aided by an error, the Cards got three of them in the first on a single by Julian Javier, doubles by Joe Cunningham and Ken Boyer, an intentional walk, and an error by Billy Martin.

Bob Nieman, St. Louis outfielder, pulled a leg muscle in the first inning and had to leave the game.

Holy Trinity's softballers hopped on Herb Beekley for seven hits and a 5-2 victory over C & K Thursday night at Memorial park.

The loss—third in a row for C & K—tumbled the erstwhile league leaders into third place behind idle Minneapolis-Honeywell.

Holy Trinity evened its record at 4-4, but remained in fourth place.

Barry Rohrbach's single, combined with two walks and two errors, scored three runs in the first inning, putting C & K in a hole from which it never recovered as Merril Renninger tossed a steady four-hitter.

After C & K got a run in the fifth, Holy Trinity clinched the contest with two more in the sixth. Renninger aided his own cause with a threebagger, and scored two runs.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

One angry father snorted: "It seems completely idiotic to force the kids to wade through our winter snow to learn dancing."
